Perfume-maker Bennett Gave Poker Parties as Well as Deep Freezes

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—When good old Clyde Hoey, the swallow-tailed senator from North Carolina, announced there would be no more hearings on General Vaughan, John Maragon and the five-percenters, it didn't surprise anybody on the inside.

For insiders have known how much pressure has been exerted by the White House to shut the investigation up.

One month ago it was announced that public hearings would be suspended in order to give the committee staff a chance to do more investigating, also to give committee counsel Rogers a two-week vacation. Since then, however, White House pressure has been terrific with even staff investigators threatened with loss of government pensions.

Since then also some sensational leads have been glossed over by committee investigators or carefully stowed away in pigeonholes.

One of the most interesting figures which Senator Hoey and his staff have turned their backs on is David A. Bennett, the perfume manufacturer, who sent seven deep freezes to Gen. Vaughan, Mrs. Truman and other bigwigs at about the time Vaughan's friend, John Maragon, was trying to smuggle Bennt's perfume into the United States disguised as champagne for the White House.

Yachts And Deep Freezes

There are some other interesting things about Mr. Bennett which the public doesn't know and most of the record is in government files where any Senate investigator could easily dig it out.

This column doesn't have the same power to subpoena records as does Senator Hoey of North Carolina, but since the Senate committee has decided to backslide on the job, this writer has done his best to take up where the senator from North Carolina left off.

For instance, here are two interesting things which the public has a right to know about. Mr. Bennett, at the time he was giving away deep freezes, acquired four government airplanes without competitive bidding, and four luxury yachts, three of them from the U. S. government.

Four yachts are a lot for any one man to have. For that matter, so are four airplanes. However, deep-freeze-giver Bennett wasn't satisfied with four yachts and wanted to buy another. To this end, a letter was written to John Maragon, care of General Vaughan at the White House, by one of Bennett's subordinates. The letter, dated Nov. 19, 1945, is in the files of Senator Hoey's committee, but since he does not seem interested in doing anything about it, this column is glad to publish the letter as follows:

"Mr. John Maragon, Care Brig. Gen. Harry Vaughan's office, White House, Washington, D. C.

"Dear John — At the request of Mr. Bennett, am sending you herewith reprint of an advertisement—on 'Yachting' and 'Motor Boating.' Mr. Bennett would like you to contact Commodore Moran, of the small boats division, maritime commission — Miss Barrett, Sec'y, and find out what condition this is in, and what price they are asking for same.

"Mr. Bennett is feeling fine after his little rest in the country and is planning on leaving here again tomorrow to spend Thanksgiving there.

"Hope you are in the best of health, and with kindest regards. . ."

Poker Parties on Yachts

At the time this letter was written to Maragon, Bennett already had the following luxury yachts: "Carnan," 600 horsepower, 121 foot, 221 tons; "Valerie V," 84 foot, 124 tons; "Caroline," 45 foot, 24 tons; "Nedra B," 111 foot, 101 tons. All these, except the "Valerie V," were purchased direct from the maritime commission. And the maritime commission was asked to disclose who else bid on the vessels, and how much was bid, the information was refused.

When asked whether the bids have been advertised, Miss Mary Barrett, referred to in the above letter to Maragon, flew into a rage.

One reason why Senator Hoey may wish to deal lightly with the man who had so many deep freezes and yachts at his disposal was because Harry Truman, when vice president, was a guest aboard the Bennett yachts.

In fact, the yachts were used for some of the famed Truman-Vaughan poker parties and this long-time intimacy between the president of the United States and the president of the Verley Perfume company may be why Maragon felt that he could with impunity label his perfume as consigned to the White House and try to smuggle it through U. S. customs.

At that time — around 1945 — one Bennett yacht was moored on the Potomac, another at Saugatuck, Mich., and another in Florida. Since then — perhaps because he has been less active in lobbying — Bennett has disposed of three yachts, but still keeps the Nedra B.

Deep Freezes And Airplanes

Bennett's government purchased airplanes also open an interesting chapter which Senator

Hoey's committee was strangely neglected. Bennett purchased, without competitive bidding, three Navy Grumman JRF-6-B's, together with an army C-54 transport plane.

The C-54 was purchased by Bennett on June 24, 1946 for $75,000. Its original cost to the government was $375,568. The three Navy Grumman were purchased for $25,000 each on Oct. 1946. Their original cost to the government was $83,109 each. The planes were purchased in the name of the Albert Verley Co.

The War Assets Administration, which sold the planes, almost had kittens when a representative of this column asked for the facts on these sales. However, fair-minded Admiral Paul Mather and his deputy, Capt. H. R. Greenlee, when consulted, decided that since the public had paid for the planes in the first place, they had a right to know who bought them and for how much.

Actions of Vishinsky and Co. Speak Louder Than Words

By Bruce Blossat

Two months ago a pair of American students cycling in Germany were arrested by Russian authorities. They were held prisoner until Sept. 28.

In that interval, the two youths told U. S. officials, they were confined in what they described as "dungeons."

What had they done to offend the Russians? The two cyclists said Soviet authorities thought they were spies. The basis for this suspicion was the fact that the lads had innocently ventured into the Russian zone on their sightseeing trip. "We did not realize how serious this was," said one.

This was a comparatively mild instance of a practice that goes on all the time along the border between the Soviet and the western zones of Germany. A more striking example came to U. S. notice a few weeks ago when an American soldier was released by the Russians after long imprisonment.

What had been his offense? He boarded the wrong street car in Berlin. It took him into the Soviet sector of the city, where he had no desire to go. Whereupon he was arrested as a spy suspect.

The young GI told American authorities that in an effort to force a "confession" from him the Russians beat him brutally a number of times and gave him the "water treatment."

This last is a little something dreamed up by our eastern friends to induce a certain humility in persons who are being grilled. The prisoner is made to stand for 24 hours in a room filled with water to a height above his knees.

As we have suggested, incidents of this sort are rather commonplace. The only reason for taking note of them is to remind Americans here at home what the Russians are really doing.

Now that the United Nations is meeting again in New York, Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky has his handy propaganda sounding board against which he can shout the evils of "war-mongering" Americans and British and proclaim the virtues of his native people.

You hear a lot of chatter about the Soviet Union's peaceful intentions and the wonders of the "people's democracy." It's old stuff, but Vishinsky is working on the well-worn but not exactly stupid theory that repetition often drives ideas home.

That is why it pays to refresh our minds from time to time on the story of Russian actions—as contrasted with Russian words.

Any time you get to thinking that maybe Vishinsky and Co. are talking straight and it is we Americans who are the culprits, just lose your eyes and visualize that young soldier standing knee-deep in cold water. For boarding the wrong street car.

Call For 'Cross-Education'

Secretary of Defense Louis A. Johnson seems to have scored well in his first attempt at "cross educating" the top men of the three chief defense branches—Army, Navy and Air Forces.

He took Army and Air Force leaders aboard the big carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt for a starter. According to reports, the experience proved his point perhaps better than he imagined it would.

By their detailed questions, the visiting firemen showed they had very little idea of some of the most basic facts about aircraft carriers. Men who wish to help make decisions about the future role of the Navy in defense demonstrated that they were not soundly grounded in the information vital to such determinations.

The process of broadening their education, and of course that of Navy men who may be equally ill-informed about land and air operations, should continue on an earnest level until the United States has a group of defense leaders who are thoroughly equipped for the joint decisions that our increasingly unified service establishment requires.

• So They Say

Unquestionably the vitality of the aged is going to increase in years to come. With this improvement there will be less desire to retire at 65, especially on an insufficient amount.—Henry W. Steinhaus, Equitable Life Assurance Society.

We should let him (communism) out of school. If he gets tough, we can hit him in the nose. I don't mean that we can entirely laugh off communism, but we can stop worrying about it and ridicule it.—Rep. Walter Huber, (D), Ohio.

Full Time Wife Has Edge on Working Wife in Many Ways

Are working wives making it tough on the girls who figure that one reason for getting married is to get out of an office and settle down to a full-time job of home-making?

One of my readers claims they are. When she married two years ago she gave up her job as secretary. She was good and tired of it.

Now, she says, her husband frequently points out how many of the men in his office have working wives and how much they are able to do on two salaries instead of one.

"I thought when I got married," says this wife, "that I was through with office work for good. One reason I wanted to marry was so that I could quit work."

Well, it's this way. Marrying a man for a meal ticket isn't quite as respectable as it used to be.

When Grandma married in order to have someone to support her for life that was fine and dandy. That was what a woman was supposed to do.

But young men today don't look with favor on being married "for security" or "for a home." They figure they ought to be married for themselves. And that any woman who is lucky enough to get them ought to be glad to help finance the marriage if it's necessary for the couple to have two incomes so that two can live as well as one.

So your husband is only reacting in a fairly normal manner for 1949.

Use Gentle Persuasion

Don't hold it against him. Just try to lead him around gently to the conviction that a full-time wife has it all over a working wife in many ways.

Be thrifty in ways working wives haven't the time to be. Do a bang-up job of housekeeping. Take time with meal planning and cooking. Show your interest in your husband's career and do anything you can to help him. A wife with secretarial training can often find ways to be a real help to her husband.

And don't be above saying now and then: "Poor Joe; it must be hard on him having to come home from the office and pitch in and do housework. But, of course, as long as his wife is working the same hours he is, she has to have help with the house."

Stomach Ulcers Have to be Checked-- Need Attention

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

Ulcers of the stomach are extremely common and seem to be increasing. Some believe that this is because of the strain of modern living. Although it is true that there is probably more excitement and wear and tear on the nervous system brought about by noise, automobiles, speed and the like, than there was 50 years ago, this point is difficult to prove.

Ulcers occur both in the stomach itself and in the duodenum, which is that portion of the intestine into which the stomach empties. The ulcer starts as a small defect in the lining of the stomach or mucous membrane, and becomes deeper and larger around as it develops. Eventually it may become deep enough to reach the tiny nerve endings which carry pain sensation to the brain.

All treatments for ulcer have the common purpose of relieving the irritation on its surface, that is in the stomach or duodenum, so that the ulcer has a chance to heal. The most irritating substances which come in contact with the ulcer is the hydrochloric acid manufactured by the stomach itself.

In addition to the pain and distress of the ulcer there are two serious complications. When an ulcer seats across a small blood vessel, bleeding takes place. Sometimes this is slow and the blood merely passes down the intestinal tract. At other times the bleeding may be rapid, fill the stomach and cause vomiting. In either case bleeding is a sign requiring prompt and serious attention.

The other complication is perforation—the ulcer eats entirely through the mucous membrane and wall of the stomach and makes a hole into the abdominal cavity. This raises the danger of peritonitis and a prompt operation is necessary.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

QUESTION: A boy 6 years old bites his fingernails and toenails until they fester. What can I do to stop it?

ANSWER: This is probably a nervous reaction. The only thing that can be done is to try to find out why the child is so nervous.

Someone to Love

THE STORY: Tod Duncan married Jenny after his fiancée flitted him. Both have tried to make a success of this marriage "on the rebound," but Tod's family, which is inhospitable to Jenny, and financial difficulties contrive to make life one complication after another. Then Jenny finds that she is to become a mother. Tod thoughtlessly leaves her one night to visit his own mother, and Jenny's time is at hand. Fortunately an old chum of Tod's, Rick Morris, drops in.

XVII

JENNY heard Rick's unhurried voice with a hint of laughter in it. "I'm not the proud father, really. He's—well I didn't have time to find out just where he had gone. But—"

She couldn't seem to control her thoughts. They swam around crazily, just as she herself was swimming now through pale green mist. Tod hadn't really wanted this baby. He hadn't even wanted to talk about it. And he couldn't be bothered with sitting around with her every evening until it came. Ma was lonely.

Ma's face was there all at once, very real, dancing before her, wearing an expression of mockery. "You schemed and flinched to get him to marry you, when you knew all the time he was still in love with Liz!"

"No!" she cried out. "I didn't scheme and fling. I only loved him."

Rick's voice interrupted gently. "Jenny!" Jenny opened her eyes, and through the mist his face emerged. The room came into focus, pale green walls, venetian blinds, and on the metal bureau a huge bouquet.

"Have I been talking crazy, Rick?" she asked weakly. She twisted her fingers around his warm hand.

Rick flushed and looked embarrassed. "You're supposed to rest, Jenny," he said gravely.

A nurse bustled in. "So she's finally come out of it. Well, dearie, has your husband told you about those two bouncing boys?"

"I'm not the father." Rick's face reddened again.

"Oh, yes." The nurse bustled around. "They told me that, but I forgot."

"Tod will be here any minute," Rick explained. "I phoned the office at the trailer camp, and they'll catch him when he comes in."

Jenny found her voice. "Two boys?"

"Twins, darling." "Oh, no." She couldn't quite comprehend it.

TOD came at last. He leaned over her, and she looked up at him, her eyes blurred and sleepy. Then she smiled faintly and said, "It was a dirty trick of me—twins—can you imagine?"

"It's wonderful, Jenny. Wonderful to think it's all over." He hated himself for having gone away and left her. He tried in every way possible to make up for it. Magazines, books, candy, flowers—he fairly outdid himself. He spoke with hearty enthusiasm of his two future football players out in the nursery, and assured Jenny over and over again that they were the cutest two infants among the lot.

Jenny pondered a long time over the names. She made out a long list and Tod approved of two of them: Dale and Philip.

They went in Rick's car one fine sunny March day, back to Homecroft camp. Jenny's neighbors had gone together to buy the needed extra bassinet and layette, for the unexpected twin. It was a joyful homecoming. And for a time things ran very smoothly. Ruth Hansen helped for a while with the morning baths. After all, two babies for a brand-new mother and no help in the crowded quarters, was quite an order.

In May the twins decided to be colicky at precisely the time Tod began working on his term papers. The trailer became a madhouse, a crowded, hectic 12 by 20 space full of squalls and the smell of wet diapers and spilled milk, and the sound of sharp adult voices. Those nights, Jenny walked back and forth the length of the trailer with one of the babies to keep him from waking his brother and Tod.

Tod was worried about a job after his graduation. Business administration had seemed a good thing to take when he started to college. He really hadn't been too interested in anything but football in the beginning. Now he learned that jobs available to graduates were neither too well paid nor plentiful, especially from a small college like Markwood.

"All I'm interested in," Jenny said wearily as they discussed it, "is getting out of this trailer and into an apartment or a house."

THEN Rick came to their rescue with what seemed to Jenny a delightful solution. He had stopped by the trailer for a few moments one Friday afternoon. He was on his way home for the week-end. She had been telling Rick about her hopeless hunt for a place to live.

"Gosh, you'll have to come down to Centerville! You can stay two weeks or even a month. We've got a big house, four bedrooms, and mother'd be tickled pink to get her hands on the twins. And she'd be nuts about you, Jenny!"

Tod looked up from his studies. "We'll find a place. Jenny's just discouraged."

"Yes, but there's no reason why you shouldn't all come down for a vacation. Of course it's a little town, awfully quiet, but—nice."

"But, Rick," Jenny protested, "are you sure your mother wouldn't be appalled at having such a houseful descend on her?"

"Nonsense!" Rick cried. "She'd love it!"

His enthusiasm was contagious, and he left with the understanding that they would come to Centerville for two weeks right after graduation.

After Rick left, Tod's voice was strangely harsh.

"Rick's in love with you, isn't he?"

Over 1,000 At Child Clinic

Immunization Is Given Them By Local Doctors

The countywide school immunization clinic held at the court house on Thursday and Friday, September 29 and 30, was very successful according to C. F. Scotten, county superintendent of schools.

Well over 1,000 children attended the clinic and received protection against diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox. More than half of these children received all three immunizations, while others received either the small-pox vaccination or the combined diphtheria-tetanus immunization.

Many children experienced their first vaccinations at this clinic, although some came in for revaccination since they had not been vaccinated within the past several years. Most of the children who entered the clinic room dreading the experience came out smiling and declaring, "it didn't hurt a bit." Others didn't even go in for the vaccination since they had experienced it before and knew what to expect. Only six children were cared for in the recovery room.

Dr. C. G. Stauffacher, and Dr. J. M. Rodeman conducted the clinic on Friday morning and Dr. A. L. Walter, Dr. J. B. O'Neill, and Dr. E. L. Rhodes were in charge Friday afternoon. The registered nurses on Friday were Mrs. Zita Woodward and Mrs. N. P. Meyer.

Doctors From Medical Society

Mr. Scotten expressed himself as being very appreciative to the many cooperating groups whose work made the clinic a success. The Pettis county court agreed to meet the operating expenses of the clinic. The State Division of Health furnished vaccine, equipment, and movies plus the services of the district health nurse, Mrs. Esther Johnson, R. N. The Pettis County Medical Society provided doctors to conduct the clinic. The R. N. Club recruited nurses. The Parent-Teacher council, the Home-Makers club, and the Health Council furnished workers and helped publicize the clinic.

Arrangements for the Sedalia public schools to participate in the clinic were made by Mrs. Bettye Murrell, R. N., school nurse. C. F. Scotten, county school superintendent, was responsible for the necessary arrangements for participation by the rural schools, the high school districts outside Sedalia, and the parochial schools.

Taking part in the clinic were all the Sedalia public schools, Sacred Heart and St. Patrick's parochial schools, the Houstonia, Hughesville, Green Ridge and La Monte high school districts and about forty-five rural schools.

Tigers-Owls In Gridiron Meet

The Smith-Cotton "Tiger" "B" team and Freshman-Eighth grade team both played morning games Saturday at Marshall. The "B" team tied the Marshall "B" team in a game which was almost entirely a defensive game.

Marshall kicked off to Sedalia and recovered when the Tigers fumbled on their 25 yard line. The Owls took the ball to the 10 yard line and in one of the closest plays to the goal were held there by the Tigers.

In the second quarter the Tigers completed a forty yard pass with Bill Arnold throwing and Virgil Rogers receiving. But the Sedalia aggregation fumbled again and Marshall took over. From this point on Sedalia was plagued by more fumbles and penalties as was Marshall.

The third quarter brought little excitement and the two teams took over the ball in a see-saw period.

In the fourth quarter Marshall blocked a Sedalia punt on Sedalia's 10 yard line but failed to score when the Tigers held them; four downs. The Tigers took the ball and after two plays Loyd Burton on an end run made it to the Owl thirty yard line. Sedalia then had a pass intercepted which broke this one drive which had put a spark into the game and Marshall had possession of the ball when the game ended.

The final score: Marshal 0; Sedalia 0.

The Freshman-Eighth grade team proudly walked away with their first game of the season with a 25-6 score.

Coaches for the teams are: "B" team, Howard Glavin; Freshman-Sighth grade, James Ball.

Institute Suit To Construe Will

Mercedes Bowser Collins, Samuel W. Bowser, Jr., John E. Bowser, an individual, and as trustee under the last will and testament of Samuel Bowser, deceased, Sarah Etta Bowser George and Warren H. George, ex parte plaintiffs, filed a suit in circuit court, Saturday, to construe a will left by the late Samuel Bowser, who died on December 7, 1949.

Under the will, Mr. Bowser gave his four children an equal part of his estate, but devised the portion for his daughter, Sarah Etta Bowser George to a trustee for her life, with the remaining interest to his grandson Warren H. George.

The will does not expressly authorize the trustee to sell the trust real estate; and to remove uncertainty with reference to authority and powers of the trustee—all parties and interest have asked the court for a declaratory judgment interpreting the will and defining the powers of the trustee.

Montgomery, Martin and Salveter are the attorneys for the suit.

Red Cross Corner

At the Cancel Clinic held last Friday at the Bothwell Hospital, the Nurse Aide Service was represented by Mrs. A. A. Studebaker and Mrs. Fred Lange.

The Area Office has requested our Chapter to send 16 Volunteers to Jefferson City, October 13, to serve in their various capacities when the Mobile Blood Unit from the St. Louis Center visits the State Prison. The call is for 6 Nurse Aides, 4 Staff Aides and 6 Canteen Workers. The response from the members of the Volunteers Services has been quick and enthusiastic.

Much emphasis is being placed on the Red Cross First Aid program in the schools, both county and city. This program, national and local, is of great importance, and all teachers are being urged to contact the Red Cross office for their First Aid supplies. Up to this time, 14 First Aid Kits have been placed in the schools. Mrs. Lawrence Wolf, First Aid Instructor, organized Junior and Standard First Aid classes at the Oak Grove Extension Club last Thursday night.

A regional Junior Red Cross Conference was held at the Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, Saturday, September 24, with more than 100 high school students and instructors in attendance. Students from the Green Ridge High School, under the direction of Mrs. Carl Sims, presented one of the outstanding numbers on the program, a skit entitled, "Boxes of Friendship." Students taking part were Susie Ballah, Joyce Hoover, Ella Fern Miller, Margie Ragor, Joyce Stewart and June White. The Pettis County Chapter was very pleasantly surprised when the eleven gift boxes used in the above skit were filled by the students. This makes Green Ridge the first school in the county to complete the filling of their Junior Red Cross Gift Boxes. This is also one of the largest number of gift boxes ever to be filled by one school.

The First Aid demonstration was under the direction of Mrs. Lawrence Wolf and presented from students from Sacred Heart High School. This was very impressive and informative, and the students were excellently trained. They were Jean Askren, Jeanette Askren, Mary Morley, Pat White and Charlotte Wienholt. Dorothy Ann Reed and Donna Robinson, of Smith Cotton High school, were responsible for the music at the luncheon. Their program was very much enjoyed.

The St. Mary Guild of the Calvary Episcopal church will have their first fall meeting Tuesday, October 4, for a 1:00 o'clock luncheon at Bothwell Lodge.

The Women's Council of the First Christian church will meet Thursday. The board meeting will begin at 11:30 o'clock in the morning and luncheon will be served at 12:15 by Circle No. 4, of which Mrs. C. F. Scotten is chairman.

The program will begin at 1:30 o'clock at which time the Rev. Thomas W. Croxton will be the speaker. Mrs. Eugene Herrick will give the devotional.

The Young Married Ladies society of the St. Paul's Lutheran church will meet Wednesday afternoon, October 5, at 2:00 o'clock, in the Sunday school room of the church.

Hostesses will be: Mrs. Lawrence Bailey and Mrs. Norman Kriesler.

Members of St. Paul's Lutheran church that attended the Institute of Sunday School Teachers of the Concordia and Sedalia zones, at Concordia Thursday night were: Miss Emilie Brunjes, Miss Hulda Schroeder, Mrs. Alfred Schreiner, Miss Florentine Shepp, Miss Shirley Young, Rudolph Grother and William Bergmann.

The institute began Thursday night and will continue each Thursday until October 21, from 7:30 to 9:30. The institute is being held at the St. Paul's college in Concordia.

The Rev. T. A. Weinhold, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran church in Kansas City; N. H. Brinkman, principal of Immanuel Lutheran school in Kansas City, and Dr. E. L. Lueker, of St. Paul's college faculty are lecturers at the institute.

res Island, S. C., and is home on a 20-day furlough.

The couple will leave for their home in Beauford, S. C., about October 10.

The opening meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Pettis County Medical Association will meet Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock for a dessert luncheon at the home of Mrs. A. L. Walter, 1000 West Seventh street.

The program will be a report of the National Convention of the Woman's Auxiliary to the American Medical Association held at Atlantic City in June and will be given by Mrs. A. J. Campbell, who was a delegate.

A report of the state board meeting which was held in Jefferson City in September will be given by Mrs. H. A. Hite and Mrs. Carl Siegel.

Second Inning Yankees

Pitching carefully to Lindell, Roe saw the count go to 3-2, then got Lindell on a soft fly to Hermanski in short right. Johnson also ran up a 3-2 count, then flied to Snider who made a glove hand catch after nearly misjudging the ball. Coleman fouled off four consecutive pitches, then lifted an easy fly to Snider.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Third Inning Dodgers

Rizzuto gobbled up Reese's bouncer and threw him out. Jorgensen sent a high pop foul to Silvera. Depending mostly on a slow curve, Raschi got Snider to roll out—Coleman to Henrich.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Third Inning Yankees

Silvera popped to Jorgensen. Raschi bounced out to Reese. Rizzuto slashed a grass cutter to Reese who bobbled the ball and the runner was safe at first on the error. It was the first Dodger error of the series. Rizzuto was credited with a stolen base when he slid into second ahead of Campanella's one hop throw to Reese. Henrich grounded to Reese.

Fourth Inning Dodgers

Robinson fouled off an attempted bunt, then was struck out swinging. Hermanski was credited with a three-bagger when his slice hit to right center skipped by DiMaggio who fell as he was about to retrieve the ball on the bounce. Right fielder Bauer finally fielded the ball which had rolled to the bullpen, 400 feet away. Rackley tapped to the right of the mound and Coleman came in fast to nail Hermanski at the plate with a splendid underhand toss to Silvera. Rackley was safe at first on the fielder's choice. Hodges flied to Bauer.

Fourth Inning Yankees

Bauer punched a Texas league single into short center but was out at second when he attempted to stretch it, Snider to Reese who made the tag. Louis Olmo was sent out to left field to replace Rackley. DiMaggio fouled off two pitches, then went down swinging on a low inside curve for Roe's first strikeout. Roe knocked down Lindell's liner back to the box and threw him out at first.

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Fifth Inning Dodgers

Campanella rammed a single through the hole between third and short, but was out trying for second as Lindell, after bobbling the ball, fired into Coleman who made the tag on the sliding Campanella. Roe was called out on strikes. Reese worked the count to 3-2 then sent a sharp grounder to Johnson who threw him out.

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Fifth Inning Yankees

It was announced that Rackley had suffered a pulled muscle in his back on Bauer's opening single in the fourth inning. Johnson swung at Roe's first pitch and raised a short pop foul to Campanella. Coleman drove a double inside the third base line. Reese raced behind Jorgensen to make a fine stop of Silvera's grounder and threw him out with a long accurate throw, Coleman going to third on the play. Raschi went out on a slow roller to Jorgensen.

Sixth Inning Dodgers

Jorgensen's high lazy fly dropped inside the left field foul line for a double with both Lindell and Rizzuto making a game but futile try to catch the ball. DiMaggio loped in for Snider's high pop fly in short center. Jorgensen holding second. Robinson bounced out, Rizzuto to Henrich, with Jorgensen going to third. Hermanski grounded to Henrich who picked up the ball with one foot on the bag for the unassisted putout.

Sixth Inning Yankees

Rizzuto grounded to Hodges who beat him to first for the putout. Hodges reached up for Henrich's high hopper and flipped to Roe who covered first for the out. Jorgensen scooped up Bauer's sizzling grounder and threw to Hodges for the out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Seventh Inning Dodgers

DiMaggio looked at a ball, fouled off the next pitch, then grounded out, Jorgensen to Hodges. Lindell flied to Olmo. Johnson's low line drive dropped at the feet of Olmo for a single. Johnson was credited with a stolen base, sliding in ahead of Campanella's throw to Reese who was late covering second. Coleman rolled out, Robinson to Hodges.

Eighth Inning Dodgers

Roe was given a rousing ovation as he came up to bat. Roe went down swinging. Rizzuto took Reese's sharp grounder and threw him out. Jorgensen lined right in to the hands of Coleman.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Eighth Inning Yankees

Johnny Mize went in to hit for Silvera. Mize singled in front of Hermanski in short right. Geo. Stirnweiss was sent in to run for Mize. Bobby Brown, another left handed batter, went to pinch hit for Raschi. Brown was called out on strikes after he had tried to bunt twice but held up each time. Rizzuto laid down a sacrifice bunt between third and the mound and was safe when Roe, in his haste to pick up the ball, fumbled for an error. It was ruled a sacrifice and an error. Stirnweiss stopped at second on the play. Henrich worked the count to 3-2 and then flied to Olmo, the runners holding their bases. Bauer hit a 3-1 pitch on two bounces to Jorgensen who whipped to Robinson forcing Rizzuto at second.

No runs, one hit, one error, two left.

Ninth Inning Dodgers

Joe Page, who has made 60 relief appearances for the Yankees during the regular season, came in to pitch. Gus Niarhos replaced Silvera behind the plate. Snider singled past Rizzuto into left. Robinson laid down a sacrifice bunt inside the first base line and was out, Henrich to Coleman who covered first. Carl Furillo batted for Hermanski. Furillo popped to Coleman. Olmo was an easy out, Rizzuto to Henrich.

Ninth Inning Yankees

Mike McCormick went to right field for the Dodgers. With the count of two strikes and no balls, DiMaggio tapped a slow roller between third and the mound and beat Jorgensen's throw for an infield single for his first hit of the series. Lindell fouled off an attempted bunt, then went down swinging, missing a low pitch that almost hit the dirt. Johnson fouled off two pitches, then raised a high pop to Robinson who made the catch a few feet inside first base. Coleman flied to McCormick who made the catch in short right center.

Navy Suspends Capt. John G. Crommelin

Denial That The Morale in Bad Shape is Made

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(P)—The Navy today suspended Capt. John G. Crommelin from duty and denied to Congress that the morale of naval officers and men is in bad shape.

These developments piled up quickly in the wake of Crommelin's admission that he is the man who gave news reporters on Monday official correspondence about Navy morale.

1. The Navy suspended Crommelin, 46-year-old aviation veteran, from duty and ordered him restricted to his home. That is a preliminary action pending final disposition of his case. There is the possibility of a court martial.

2. Secretary of the Navy Matthews went before the House armed services committee and said he believes Navy morale generally is good. Without calling Crommelin's name, Matthews in effect accused him of disloyalty, faithlessness and insubordination.

3. President Truman told a news conference he has instructed Matthews to get to the bottom of the controversy swirling about charges that the Navy is not being given a fair deal in present military unification policies.

Mr. Truman declined to comment on Crommelin's release of private Navy correspondence critical of defense policies.

First to Disclose Action

Crommelin himself was the first to disclose the Navy's action. He told reporters of it when he came out of the office of Vice Admiral John Dale Price, vice chief of naval operations. The action was taken by Price.

The Navy then issued an announcement which said: "By direction of Navy Secretary Matthews, Admiral Louis Donnell, chief of naval operations, has taken steps to have appropriate charges placed against Captain Crommelin."

It added that pending preference of these charges, Crommelin had been suspended from duty and restricted to his home. Indicating that he anticipates a court martial trial, Crommelin told reporters that a close friend, Capt. J. L. Kane, chief of naval aviation plans, would be his attorney.

Under Navy procedure the office of inspector general will make an investigation and recommend action to the Navy high command. Rear Admiral H. R. McCann is inspector general.

If the inspector general's office finds that Crommelin has violated Navy regulations it could recommend court martial.

When Crommelin arrived at his office this morning he found orders to report to McCann's office. He was on his way there when a naval officer met him and instructed him to go instead to Price.

Crommelin was closeted with Price only a few minutes. He took with him a light blue cloth-bound book of Navy regulations. Only last night, Crommelin had acknowledged that it was he who "leaked" to the press on Monday the correspondence in which three admirals noted concern about Navy morale under the existing defense setup.

The 46-year-old captain noted in a statement that it was a violation of regulations but said that it was only "technical" and that he acted for what he believed to be the good of his country.

Crommelin told reporters he did not know what the Navy department would do about it but that he was ready to take the consequences.

On Capitol Hill, one result of Crommelin's action was to spur a congressional airing of deep-seated differences, particularly between the Navy and the Air Force, over military policy. The House armed services committee ordered it.

Say Settlement Not Reached

HONOLULU, Oct. 6.—(P)—Union leader Harry Bridges declared today he had negotiated a settlement of the 159-day-old Hawaiian stevedore strike, but an employer spokesman said, "No settlement has been reached."

Bridges, president of the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union, made his assertion as he boarded a plane for San Francisco after several days of secret negotiations.

However, Philip Maxwell, vice-president of the Hawaiian Employers' council, said a few minutes later that there was no settlement.

Members of the employer negotiating committee were meeting this morning.

House-Senate Disagree On Air Force

Meeting Breaks Up Over Groups; House Wants 58, Senate 48

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(P)—A Senate and House conference broke up in disagreement tonight over how big a combat air force the United States needs for her defense in peace time.

House members stood pat on a 58-group force while Senate conferees insisted on a 48 group air force. And on this issue the conference came to a dead halt.

Multi-Billion Dollar Bill

The deadlock came as the conferees were putting finishing touches on the multi-billion dollar bill to finance operations of the Army, Navy and Air Force until next June 30.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) chairman of the conference committee, told reporters the conferees reached tentative agreement on all items in the bill except the Air Force funds and a $275,000,000 item for stockpiling critical and strategic materials.

Asks For $15,324,506,700

President Truman originally asked Congress for a total military appropriation of $15,324,506,700. Included in this was $4,033,887,000 in cash and $1,432,000,000 in contract authority for the Air Force for building up a 48-group combat air force.

The House boosted the Air Force funds by $222,067,000 in cash and $577,755,000 in contract authority for a 58-group force. But the Senate cut the House increases back to the amount requested by the President. And that sparked the major dispute over the differing money bills.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 6.—(P)—The Missouri Public Service Commission recessed until next week tonight its public hearing on Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. request for a $5,000,000 second round rate increase.

Frequently continued for days or weeks, the hearing was opened last July. Today was the 13 days consumed by the hearings.

For more than a day, Public Service Commission Staff members and attorneys for Missouri cities opposing the rate hike questioned Bell's chief engineer, H. R. Fritz of St. Louis. He had testified earlier on Bell's system of accounting for depreciation of plant.

Just before quitting today, the utility's rate engineer, L. D. Leverington, went over his estimates on how much the proposed rate boost would cost customers in the various Missouri cities served by Bell.

No Emotion As 'Tokyo Rose' Gets Sentence

Ten Years In Prison And $10,000 Fine Will Be Appealed

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—(P)—Iva Toguri D'Aquino was sentenced to 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine in federal court today for making treasonable "Tokyo Rose" broadcasts from radio Tokyo in wartime.

Mrs. D'Aquino, 33, daughter of a Los Angeles and Chicago grocer, stood with eyes downcast. She showed no emotion as the sentence was pronounced by Judge Michael J. Roche.

Roche acted following denial of motions by her attorneys for a directed verdict of acquittal, arrest of judgment and a new trial, and a plea for clemency.

Says Conscience Is Clear

"I couldn't believe they would send me to jail," the young woman told newsmen shortly before the sentence. "My conscience is clear."

"I did everything I could for the Americans. I spent more than half my salary taking food and tobacco to the prisoners of war at Bunka camp."

Chief Prosecutor Tom De Wolfe resisted all defense motions and spoke in reply to the plea for clemency.

Mrs. D'Aquino was convicted of one overt act charging she had broadcast to American troops after the battle of Leyte: "You really are orphans now that you have lost all your ships. How are you going to get home?"

Said She Was "A Mere Girl"

Defense Attorney Wayne Collins, who pleaded for the minimum sentence of five years, described his client as "a mere girl" in 1943 when she "yielded to pressure to go on the radio, while stranded in a hostile country."

"It was the same pressure to which 27 prisoners of war—men and soldiers—also yielded," he added.

He called the verdict a "gross miscarriage of justice" and said he would appeal.

Launch Program To Help "Free Nations"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(P)—President Truman today launched a $7,154,000,000 program of economic and military aid to help the "free nations" of the world free.

As a "notable contribution to collective security" he signed the Mutual Defense Assistance Act authorizing $1,314,010,000 (B) in arms and military supplies to help friendly nations resist Communism.

Mr. Truman also approved a $5,809,990,000 (B) appropriation for a second year of Marshall plan assistance to speed recovery in western Europe and other parts of the world.

In putting his signature to the measure, the President stressed they were integral parts of a global campaign against want and the threat of war.

Found It Costly To Put Slug In Meter

DETROIT, Oct. 6.—(P)—Edward Temple, 47, city tax collector, is out $240 because he put a slug in a parking meter.

Temple was fined $100 yesterday, after pleading guilty in traffic and ordinance court to using a stub to park his car. A two weeks suspension from his job in the city treasurer's office cost him $140.

"I admit it was a cheap trick," Temple told Judge George T. Murphy.

Death to R. E. Hannegan in Heart Attack

Was Postmaster General Before Retiring in 1947

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—(P)—Robert E. Hannegan, former postmaster general and one time owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, died today at his home here.

His death resulted from a heart attack, Mrs. Hannegan said. In failing health for some time, Hannegan was ill last night and a physician was summoned to the home early today.

His wife was at his bedside. A friend who notified the press of his death said it occurred between 9 and 9:30 a. m. CST.

Hannegan, who was only 46, gave his health as the reason for selling his interest in the Cardinals last winter.

Several High Posts

Hannegan retired as postmaster general in November, 1947, to head a syndicate buying the St. Louis baseball club. He also had served as chairman of the National Democratic Committee and directed the party's 1944 presidential campaign.

Before that he was collector of internal revenue, serving in that post until he was named postmaster general by President Truman in 1945.

A prominent Catholic, Hannegan was made a Knight of St. Gregory, Grand Order of the Holy Cross, by Pope Pius XII in 1946.

Hannegan's last public appearance was at Kansas City last Thursday at a testimonial dinner for William M. Boyle, Jr., new chairman of the Democratic National Committee. President Truman attended, and in his talk noted that Hannegan "had something to do" with Truman's becoming president.

When Hannegan sold his part of the Cardinals he told reporters he wanted to get into less strenuous activity because of high blood pressure.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 10 a. m. at St. Louis cathedral.

Praised By Nacy

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 6.—(P)—Richard R. Nacy, described Robert E. Hannegan today as "one of the really great men of this generation."

Hannegan died unexpectedly of a heart attack in St. Louis this morning.

Nacy, a Jefferson City banker, was Hannegan's assistant in heading the National Democratic Committee in 1945 and 1946.

Nacy said it was through Hannegan's efforts that President Truman became the late President Roosevelt's running mate in the 1944 elections.

"President Roosevelt loved, respected and trusted Bob Hannegan," Nacy said today.

"It was Hannegan through Roosevelt who brought about President Truman's nomination for vice president in 1944. I was with him at the time and I know how it was."

"Hannegan's quiet work behind the scenes with Presidents Roosevelt and Truman was most valuable to the country."

"His family life was beautiful. He was my dearest friend and I shall miss him dreadfully."

Message of Sympathy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(P)—White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said President Truman was "terribly distressed" over the death today of Robert E. Hannegan, former chairman of the Democratic national committee.

He said the president had sent a message of sympathy to Mrs. Hannegan on behalf of himself and Mrs. Truman.

Launch Program To Help "Free Nations"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(P)—President Truman today launched a $7,154,000,000 program of economic and military aid to help the "free nations" of the world free.

As a "notable contribution to collective security" he signed the Mutual Defense Assistance Act authorizing $1,314,010,000 (B) in arms and military supplies to help friendly nations resist Communism.

Mr. Truman also approved a $5,809,990,000 (B) appropriation for a second year of Marshall plan assistance to speed recovery in western Europe and other parts of the world.

In putting his signature to the measure, the President stressed they were integral parts of a global campaign against want and the threat of war.

Found It Costly To Put Slug In Meter

DETROIT, Oct. 6.—(P)—Edward Temple, 47, city tax collector, is out $240 because he put a slug in a parking meter.

Temple was fined $100 yesterday, after pleading guilty in traffic and ordinance court to using a stub to park his car. A two weeks suspension from his job in the city treasurer's office cost him $140.

"I admit it was a cheap trick," Temple told Judge George T. Murphy.

The new queen succeeds Helen Dozier Conant.

Truman Isn't Excited Over Reds UN Plan

Doubts Russia Is Cooking Up Atomic Bomb Control Plan

By D. Harold Oliver

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(P)—President Truman said today he doubts that Russia is cooking up an acceptable atomic bomb control plan.

The Soviets will make a new arms control statement next Tuesday at the United Nations. The big question is: will they have a new slant on atomic bomb control now that an atomic explosion in Russia has been reported by the U. S.?

Mr. Truman wasn't excited by this prospect. A newsmen told him at his news conference that it was reported the Russians were about to make "some new proposal for disarmament." He asked if Mr. Truman would look forward to hearing about it.

Not necessarily, Mr. Truman replied. He said any number of proposals had been made that could not be accepted and this will probably be in the same class.

Hopes To Avoid Arms Race

Yankees Edged Brooklyn

John Mize' Two-Run Single in Ninth Gave The Yanks 4-3 Win Over Dodgers

By Jack Hand

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Big John Mize's two-run single topped a New York Yankee ninth inning explosion that barely survived a dying gasp double homer blast by Brooklyn today for a 4-3 victory in the third World Series game.

As a result of the triumph, the Yanks now hold a 2-1 edge in the best of seven series.

Mize's blast off the screen atop the right field wall broke a 1-1 tie battle between Ralph Branca and fireman Joe Paige. As it turned out it wasn't enough to win. Gerry Coleman's single to center, back to back with Mize's blow, droze in the run that was to be the clinched on this murky day.

Taking a 4-1 lead into the last of the ninth, fireman Joe was riding easy. But two homers by Luis Olmo and Roy Campanella suddenly erupted the calm.

Needing only one run to tie, Bruce Edwards came up to pinch hit but took a third called strike from Page.

Manager Casey Stengel had just been out to the mound, talking with his relief ace after Campanella's homer—he decided to stick with Joe and he never made a better move.

Olmo's clout came unexpectedly with one out and nobody on. Then Page, who replaced starter Tommy Byrne in the fourth, whiffed Duke Snider. Campanella's blast that just made the grade over the ball

Light Tornado Strikes Houston

HOUSTON, Oct. 7.—(AP)—A brief tornado skipped through the east side of Houston today. First report said a few houses were damaged.

An automobile on telephone road was picked up and hurled 15 feet.

Witnesses said the twister moved across the area in a black cone.

Houston, whose 500,000 population make it Texas' largest city, was hit by a hurricane early Tuesday, but suffered little damage.

The automobile, owner by Mrs. Paul James, a laundry employee, was turned for an end-over-end flip and deposited upright on a street curb about 15 feet from where it was parked.

Clifford W. Phifer, a cafe owner said he saw the twister moving in from the south.

The outstanding program for the auxiliary will be a business session Saturday morning and a luncheon at the Fifth Street Methodist church at noon. The luncheon will be served by the Friendship class of the church.

Mrs. H. E. Lindstrom, acting president, will preside.

An address will be given by Mrs. James Spalding, of Marshall, the former Miss Virginia Burford of this city.

Thirteen Injured In Hospitals

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Thirteen persons, injured when an elevator plunged out of control in a department store here yesterday, remained in hospitals today.

Eight other persons, including three children, were injured in the fall.

BULLETIN

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.—(AP)—An eight-state governors' conference plan for settling the four-week-old Missouri Pacific strike was accepted today by union officials.

The railroad management was considering the plan. It would not result in an immediate end to the walkout.

Governors or their representatives from the eight states recommended the company and the four striking unions enter negotiations immediately "in good faith."

"We further recommend that at the conclusion of such negotiations the parties agree on the method of disposition of any cases on which no agreement has been reached by negotiation."

Little Progress For Strike End

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Weary officials of eight of the 11 states affected by the Missouri Pacific strike went back into conference today, just a little less confident that they could end the walkout.

They were optimistic when the meeting opened yesterday. But that optimism faded after they had failed to find a common ground on which negotiations between the company and the four striking unions could begin.

The session lasted until 1:15 a. m. CST today.

Each side met alternatively with the state officials. Little progress was made.

Brotherhood officers insisted that the railroad began negotiating some of the 232 claims that led to the strike. Guy A. Thompson, MoPac trustee, was equally insistent that the issues be submitted to arbitration and that the strike be called off.

The walkout now is in its fourth week.

James C. Kirkpatrick, press secretary for Missouri's Gov. Forrest Smith, said today before the second meeting that "both sides are making a conscientious effort to get a basis of settlement."

States represented at the conference, besides Missouri, are Arkansas, Kansas, Colorado, Illinois, Nebraska, Louisiana and Oklahoma.

Guns Stolen in Store Robbery

Break-in Thursday Night at Esser Hardware Co.

About $800 in merchandise and cash were stolen from the Esser Hardware store, 118 West Main street, sometime after 11 o'clock, Thursday night, according to Edgar Clark, salesman, who reported the break-in to police, shortly after he opened the store this morning.

The thief or thieves, practically left one gun rack bare by taking five shotguns, one rifle and six hand guns, a value of over $800. Three cartons of ammunition, valued at $15 and a $28 basketball were also taken. Out of a couple of dozen basketballs, the only expensive one was taken off the shelf.

Evidently the break-in was carried out in a speedy manner, because some money and checks were left. In the rear room, one desk drawer was emptied of $100, but in the upper drawer of the same desk, over $200 was not touched. The cash register was emptied of $31 in bills, but several dollars in silver were untouched.

A box car, parked by the back door, made a perfect shield for the thieves, while they tore out a panel section of the door to gain their entrance. The hole was big enough only to allow a small person to enter.

It was indicated that two persons, who liked whiskey and wine, handled the job. Near the back door could be seen two freshly emptied bottles, which without a doubt, some believed, were consumed by the robbers to get enough nerve up before pulling the job.

Movies of Games Shown to Club

The Sedalia Quarterback club gathered at the Hotel Bothwell Thursday night to view motion pictures of the Ohio State and Southern Methodist games with Missouri university. The pictures were shown and explained by Bus Entsminger, former Missouri university quarterback.

The special guests of the evening were the Smith-Cotton Tigers and member of the Southeast Missouri State College football team from Cape Girardeau. Their coach, Wayne Goodard, was also present.

John Van Dyne, president of the local organization said Sedalia's club is now the third largest in the state.

East German Republic is Proclaimed

Separate Regimes One by Russia's New Satellite

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The East German republic—Russia's newest satellite—was proclaimed today under the leadership of German Communists.

The German Peoples' Council, heretofore a pro-Soviet public forum without any legal powers, voted unanimously to become immediately the lower house of the "German Democratic Republic."

The Germans now have two separate regimes—the one for the eastern part of the country established today and the recently formed west German government which has authority in the American, British and French occupation zones.

A president, premier and lull cabinet for the east German republic will be named next week. The new Red regime was built up without the formality of elections in a week of intensive Soviet-fostered propaganda.

Manifesto Issued

Preceding the proclamation of the new government the Peoples' council unanimously adopted a manifesto to all Germans which the Communists Central Committee had drawn up. The manifesto calls for a fight against the west German republic by a "national front," including elements with a Nazi past who promised to be democrats in the future.

Both the east and west governments hope ultimately to be the government for all Germany.

Described by the Communists as a "great hour of German history" the formation of the Peoples' chamber of the east republic followed seven approving speeches by Communist sympathizers in the council. No one spoke against the resolution.

The council agreed to meet for the first time as a Peoples' Chamber later today.

Wilhelm Pieck, Communist elder statesman, asked the Soviet Union "to return full sovereignty" to the Germans. Informed Berliners said earlier that the Russians already have promised the infant state full membership in the Cominform—the Moscow-dominated political bloc which includes all the Communist regimes of eastern Europe except Yugoslavia.

Pieck said the new republic's first election will be held Oct. 15, 1950. Until then, he added, the regime will be known as the "Provisional All-German Government." Pieck is expected to be the new regime's first president, with Otto Grotewohl, the No. 2 Communist in eastern Germany, slated to be chancellor, or premier.

Gerhart Eisler, fugitive from the U. S. Department of Justice, and east Berlin's mayor, Friedrich Ebert, pro-Communist son of the first president of the Weimar republic, were among the people's conciliators at today's session. Eisler is slated to become information minister in the new regime.

Engineer Dies In a Collision

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Frantic crewmen leaped for their lives last night as two Frisco freight trains tangled in twisted wreckage. The engineer of one train was crushed to death.

The crash occurred about a mile from the Mississippi river bridge when a 112-car westbound freight rumbled into another freight waiting to be switched onto a sidetrack.

The impact crumpled both engines and jack-knifed heavily loaded cars like straws. Although trainmen said the oncoming freight was sliding along at a bare ten miles an hour.

Engineer E. E. Telley, 64, of Chaffee, Mo., was crushed to death.

Three trainmen were injured in the accident but all were treated at a Memphis hospital and released today.

They are H. T. Wilburn of Haiti, Mo., and W. G. Hall of Pensacola, Fla., both firemen and Ralph Lape of Chaffee, brakeman.

Radford Says B-36 Fleet is Big Blunder

Testifies Before Inquiry Body of The House Today

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Admiral Arthur W. Radford touched off a move in Congress to curb powers of Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson with testimony today that high defense decisions are made without benefit of facts only the Navy could give.

By Douglas B. Cornell

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Admiral Arthur W. Radford declared today that the Air Force "undermined unification" by the launching its B-36 program without proper coordination with the other services. He said the split now has grown to "malignant proportions."

The Pacific fleet commander, testifying before a House committee, labeled the Air Force's proud B-36 fleet "a billion dollar blunder," which will be useless on defense and inadequate on offense if an atomic war comes.

Radford, who is one of the top aviators in the Navy, told the Congress members:

"I can significantly say to you that I hope that enemy bombers which may attack our country in any future conflict will be no better than the B-36."

At another point, in an exchange with Rep. Short (R-Mo) Radford said that "in the last analysis I consider the B-36 a 1941 airplane."

Radford said he did not believe even the late secretary of defense Forrestal had advance knowledge when the Air Force decided on its multi-million dollar B-36 construction program last January.

Certainly, he said, it was a surprise to the Navy because the Air Force, all through 1948, had given the Navy the impression that it considered the B-36 an inadequate weapon."

"Not Cheap And Easy"

In a slashing attack, Radford said that putting so much of limited military funds into the B-36 is a "bad gamble with national security" based on an unsound theory that there can be "a cheap and easy victory" through strategic bombing.

He told the lawmakers that claims made for the B-36 intercontinental bomber are not "valid"—that it is not true that it can perform unescorted missions by day or night, escaping interception and that it can bomb with precision from 40,000 feet.

Without escort, he declared, it can be intercepted and destroyed in unacceptable numbers.

Just before that he had told the committee that unless the B-36 could attack successfully without unacceptable losses, then "the B-36 is a billion dollar blunder."

Given in Closed Session

Radford's statement was first given the House group at a closed session yesterday. Over the protest of Secretary of the Navy Matthews, the committee decided he should make it again publicly. Matthews took the position that national security might be damaged if Radford's views were made public. But the committee voted him down, 9 to 6.

The committee wants to find out why some Navy men—like the suspended Captain John G. Crommelin—think morale and fighting efficiency of the sea service are being worn away by present defense policies.

Salvation Army Uses Funds For Health and Rehabilitation

The $5,200 of the Community Chest Fund that goes to the Salvation Army is used by that organization in various ways in helping humanity. In feeding and clothing the people, helping them to normal living, giving them confidence in themselves, helping them to regain health, mentally and physically.

In the past year the local Salvation Army has done many things to help the people of Sedalia and of the surrounding communities who needed help. Among the cases helped was a man with a good trade who lost his self respect through drink until he reached the bottom. Finally he went to the Salvation Army and through their guidance worked his way up again. When he was once able to work they helped him find a job and he has since been making good.

Then there was the young woman who had three children whose marriage ended in divorce. She served a sentence for perjury and the husband took the children. She became a neurotic, lost all confidence, wouldn't see people and finally Mrs. A. R. Rush, of the Salvation Army sponsored the case. It was a long hard struggle but she rebuilt the young woman's confidence in herself, now she is

Nine in Plane Crash Dead

Find Wrecked C-47 On Mountain in North Carolina

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Ranger Tom Huffman reported today that all nine men aboard an Air Force C-47 transport that crashed in the mountains near here were dead.

The wreckage of the plane was found six miles from the Blue Ridge parkway, three-quarters of a mile down on the east side of Mount Mitchell, highest mountain east of the Mississippi.

Huffman said game warden W. C. Hall reported to him that he had seen the wreckage and that all nine men were dead and the plane burned. He said that Hall told him one of the victims apparently had crawled from the wreckage and was burned.

The plane was found as ground and air groups began their second day of searching.

Down in Timber

The foresters said the plane crashed in a heavily timbered area near a rough road—once the bed of a lumber railroad. The rangers sighted the torn ship about 7:30 a. m., an hour after resuming the hunt. Half an hour was required for them to get to the wreck.

While fog shrouded the big, balsam covered mountain last night, Hall said he and other rangers studied reports of persons who said they had heard an explosion about 11:30 a. m. Wednesday. With their knowledge able to work and the children have been returned to her by their father, who saw the change that had come over her. Today she is attending church and taking her place in life in her community.

Find Home for Boy

There was also the cast of an eight year old boy whose parents were divorced and whose mother was too busy with several other children to give him the attention he needed. He was a terrible child, people of the neighborhood for a number of blocks wouldn't leave home without securely locking their doors. He robbed homes and cars and did many other things. Finally he was brought to Capt. and Mrs. Rush. They kept him and at last found a home in another town for him, a home with a Salvation Army woman who had herself at one time needed help. She wanted such a boy and he has now developed into a fine youngster. All he needed was love and affection and responded quickly when he got it.

Upside Down Painting Praised

LEEDS, England, Oct. 7.—(AP)—For 11 days artists and critics studied admiringly an abstract painting called "Composition" at a local art show.

Today a more observant viewer discovered it was hanging upside down—with the painter's initials tippy turvy in the upper left hand corner.

Artist Alfred Common was pleased to hear it. "I regard it," said he, "as a compliment on the coherence of the design."

Stress Need For Greater Understanding

Miss Sally Butler BPWC Annual Banquet Speaker

Stressing the need for greater understanding between our country and the countries of Europe was the keynote of the address given Thursday night at the annual Public Affairs banquet of the Sedalia Business and Professional Women's club by the international president, Miss Sally Butler, of Indianapolis, Ind.

The banquet was held at the St. Patrick's school and table decorations were in keeping with the autumn season with an arrangement of flowers in shades of yellow, tall white tapers in three branch candleholders, bright leaves, Persimmons and nuts lending the atmosphere of this season of the year.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. A. R. Rush, president, and invocation was by Mrs. Florence Elliott.

Guests Introduced

Mrs. Rush then introduced the guests at the speaker's table which included Miss Helen Lane, Warrensburg, state corresponding secretary of the B. P. W. C., Miss Elizabeth Daniel, Warrensburg, State Bulletin Editor, and Mayor Julian H. Bagby.

Guests from the Civic groups were also introduced as follows: Rotary, Oscar DeWolf, president and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Naugle; Kiwanis, Bert Hathaway, president and Mrs. Hathaway; Lions, A. W. Haller, president and Mrs. Haller and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seaburg; Optimists, Judge and Mrs. Dimmitt Hoffman; Sorosis, Mrs. Harry Lindstrom, president; Garden Clubs, Mrs. Oscar DeWolf, president of the Sedalia Chapter of Garden Clubs and Mrs. Frank S. Leach, regional director; Knife and Fork Club, Harry Lindstrom; Chamber of Commerce, Ben Robinson, vice president and Mrs. Robinson; Ministerial Alliance, Capt. A. R. Rush, president, and Rev. and Mrs. Thomas W. Croxson; Girl Scouts, Miss Agnes Quinn.

Visiting B. P. W. C. members included members from Eldon, Clinton, Warrensburg, Windsor and Jefferson City.

Mrs. Rush then introduced Miss Hazel Palmer, chairman of the Public Relations committee, who presented Miss Butler, a close personal friend.

Miss Butler has just returned home from Europe. This trip being her third, each time as a representative of the Business and Professional Women's club. This time she visited 14 countries and made it a point to try to know the people and the way they live. She said that because she was from the country she felt she could get closer to the people.

Received Many Gifts

Her three months in Europe were spent mostly in the Scandinavian countries. The trip over was on a Swedish boat and they ate five times a day. The food was plentiful but sugar, she said, was still rationed. She was met by B. P. W. C. members from Norway and Sweden and had 18 pieces of luggage much of which was filled with gifts for the countries she was to visit. Among the gifts was 50 pounds of bananas. After she had written the president of the B. P. W. C. of Norway and told her she was bringing her a gift and asked her what she wanted most, Miss Butler was surprised to receive the answer, "A Banana."

So along with many useful and necessary gifts, she took 50 pounds of bananas, which the people of that country enjoyed to the fullest. Many of the gifts had been sent by members of the B. P. W. C. over the nation and others were by Miss Butler with money sent her from members of that organization that she might purchase the gifts to take with her. One five year old child was delighted with the banana, the first it had ever seen, she said.

Finland, Miss Butler said, is a wonderful country more water than land with its thousands of lakes. Although it is the country closest to Russia, the people she found were more like the Americans than any other country she visited except in their language which was more Mongolian. Their dress, too, was very much like ours and their cities very modern.

Threat of A New Strike

Talks on Coal Strike in Effort To Bring on a Settlement

By the Associated Press

The threat of an aluminum strike arose today as the government sought to end the coal strike. The week-old steel strike continues without signs of early peace.

In Pittsburgh, the CIO United Steelworkers filed a strike notice against the big Aluminum Company of America, which has 20,000 United Steelworkers in nine plants in eight states.

The union set an October 17 strike deadline and said no progress has been made in contract negotiations. The union wants ALCOA to give a wage increase, free pensions, and social insurance.

Try For Conciliation

In Washington, meanwhile, John L. Lewis and leading soft coal operators began talks with Conciliation Chief Cyrus Ching in a government effort to end the 19 day old strike by 380,000 United Mine Workers.

In the week-end strike of 500,000 United CIO Steelworkers, no union-management sessions were scheduled. But Ching was expected to call for talks next week with union and steel industry representatives. Pensions and insurance are the main issues in the dispute.

There was one bright note on the labor front. The CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and seven stevedoring firms agreed to settle Hawaii's five month old strike. The union's 2,000 dock workers ratified the agreement which provides a wage hike of 14 cents an hour. The union struck for a pay boost of 32 cents.

An immediate back-to-work order was delayed pending settlement of non-stevedoring issues in ports other than Honolulu. However, early agreement was expected and docks, strike-bound since May 1, were expected to be humming at a normal rate next week.

The meeting in Washington called by Ching broke up negotiations between Lewis and operators for a new coal contract. No date was set for resumption of conferences which Lewis has kept going all summer at White Sulphur Springs and Bluefield, W. Va.

In Camden, N. J., 5,000 production workers at the RCA-Victor division, Radio Corporation of America, voted to strike by a 4 to 1 margin. John Leto, president of Local 103, CIO United Electrical Workers, said the vote did not call for an immediate strike but authorizes the negotiating committee to call a walkout if it deems one necessary. The strike vote was ordered, Leto said, in support of union demands for a $500 annual wage increase and a "better pension and insurance plan."

Leto said the RCA plant at Pulaski, Va., authorized strike action by a 10 to 1 margin. Results of similar ballots at plants in Lancaster, Pa., and Hollywood, Calif., were not available.

More Strikes Called

In the steel dispute, strikes at the Harrisburg Steel Co., and the Central Iron and Steel Co., both at Harrisburg, Pa., were called for midnight Tuesday. The companies have refused free pensions and insurance to their 1,160 workers. A walkout by 150 employees forced the shutdown of the Philadelphia Hardware and Mailable Iron Works, a steel fabricating plant. Ore boats were tied up at several ports on the Great Lakes. Thirteen awaited unloading in Cleveland.

In Detroit, Packard laid off 7,856 of its 12,413 employees until Monday as the auto industry began feeling the effects of the steel strike. The Briggs Manufacturing company which supplies boddies for Packard, laid off 5,000 workers. Members of the CIO United Auto Workers Union at Briggs have voted 10 to 1 in favor of strike action in support of their demand for $100 a month company-financed pensions.

Half Million See The V-P Parade

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.—(AP)—An estimated half million people lined the streets of St. Louis last night to watch the annual Veiled Prophet parade.

The colorful procession of brilliantly lighted floats moved over a seven and a half mile route.

An eclipse of the moon, which occurred at the same time, got second billing.

Giving To God

A rich exporter was once asked to contribute toward a certain project of his church. He wrote a check for a generous amount and handed it to his visitor. Just as he did so, his secretary brought him a cable reporting that one of his ships had been wrecked and the cargo lost.

"I'll have to write another check," the merchant said. He took back the check he had already signed, and wrote another for four times the amount of the first. Surprised, the visitor asked: "Haven't you made a mistake?"

"Not at all," the merchant replied. "That cable reminded me of the warning in Scripture, 'Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth.' The loss of my ship also made me realize how wrong it is to be niggardly with God when actually everything we own is really His. I don't want to forget that in the future."

Many people, unfortunately, act as if they were completely unaware of the fact of God's primary ownership of all they possess. That may be the reason why such a comparatively insignificant percentage of America's national income finds its way into church coffers. Americans spend fabulous sums every year on liquor, tobacco, amusements, and luxuries of all kinds. But this general outlay on material self-indulgence is accompanied by a parsimonious allocation to the churches or the institutions and enterprises they conduct.

It may be that people generally do not realize that in giving to the churches they are merely paying a debt due to God. The churches exist to do God's work. They not only minister to the spiritual needs of their members, but they promote and support all kinds of missionary works, not to mention needed social welfare and charitable undertakings which otherwise might come under the cold, impersonal supervision of government agencies.

All our gifts to God—however indirectly given—are offerings of great potential worth. Most important of all, they are an expression of gratitude for the blessings we enjoy and an evidence of our readiness to share what we have with our less fortunate neighbors—whether they be the needy in our midst, the orphan in distress, or the pagan in some far-off place who waits for someone to bring him word of the faith.

Sunday School Lesson

Few Basic Facts
Help Bible Students
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The comment offered here is not directed to any particular lesson, but is designated to help in the reading, understanding and teaching of any, or all, lessons based on the great Hebrew prophecies. Emphasis is at present on the prophecies of Isaiah and Jeremiah and it is a coincidence as these words are written that the daily papers have announced the discovery of a manuscript or scroll, copy of the prophecy of Isaiah of a much earlier date than any hitherto known. This new scroll is being studied by scholars at Yale university and while the results of their studies are yet to be announced, it is indicated that the authenticity of the text of the prophecy as we have known it, the discovery of this manuscript in itself, however, emphasizes a fact well known to biblical scholars, both Jewish and Christian, not always taken into account by general readers. This manuscript, though much earlier than those formerly known, is some centuries later than the time when Isaiah lived.

If the "Book of Isaiah" meant that we have a book by Isaiah, directly from his own hand, like a book from some modern author, some problems in connection with the long prophetic book would be easily solved. But the prophecy by Isaiah represents a compilation, at a later date in which other prophecies and some of a period much later than the time of Isaiah, were included. This is particularly true of the chapters from the 40th on, which have sometimes been called "the Second Isaiah." The evidence for this is too full and technical for summary here, but interested readers might refer to articles in Hastings' Bible dictionary and to the commentaries on Isaiah by the late Prof. George Adam Smith.

A few basic facts, always present in the mind, attitude and outlook of all the Hebrew prophets must be constantly borne in mind by those who would have even a meager understanding of what they said and wrote. The first of these facts was their strong and basic belief in God's call to Israel as a chosen people. This choice was not in a covenant, or non-forfeitable. It was established in a covenant and a covenant is a two-party agreement. The prophets of the Exile period, like Jeremiah told Israel had broken that covenant, failing to recognize God's call by their ways of idolatry and their disregard of righteousness in personal life and in social injustice. Integrity and purity of worship were constant themes. Worship was not a matter of formal sacrifice, out of right living and of justice and mercy, man with man.

The other basic fact was of Israel's situation in the midst of the great pagan empire of the ancient world. Egypt was always in the south and some great pagan power to the north, east and west. The fear of invasion was great, the danger of entangling alliances with one or other of their powerful neighbors always a possibility, and with it all the deeper danger of corrupting forces destroying the moral and religious integrity of Israel. These basic factors appear constantly in the prophecies. In future comment I shall strive to summarize what the prophets had to say about them.

New Pastor At LaMonte

Dr. E. C. Wright, the new pastor of the Methodist church at LaMonte, will preach there Sunday and will have for his morning subject: "The Love of Christ."

Dr. E. C. Wright

Dr. Wright had been a member of the Nebraska Methodist conference but retired early on account of being injured in an automobile accident.

While disabled he worked out a series of Bible lectures with pictures and has been giving them most of the time for several years. Attendance at lectures he has given in most of the central and southern states is said to have reached over 300,000.

At LaMonte he plans to give them in connection with his church work in furtherance of Bible study.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"ARE SIN, DISEASE, AND DEATH REAL?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 9, 1949.

Golden Text: Ps. 67:1, 2.

Among the citations which follow the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Solomon stood before the altar of the Lord in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and spread forth his hands toward heaven: And he said, Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee, in heaven above, or on earth beneath, who keepest covenant and mercy with thy servants that walk before thee with all their heart." (1 Kings 8:22, 23)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science "Textbook," "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If mankind would relinquish the belief that God makes sickness, sin, and death, or makes man capable of suffering on account of this malevolent triad, the foundations of error would be sapped and error's destruction ensured; but if we theoretically endow mortals with the creative power and authority of Deity, how dare we attempt to destroy what He hath made, or even to deny that God made man evil and made evil good?" (p. 357)

'Anniversary Week' by The Fox Theatres

The Fox Theatre joins with the entire Fox Midwest group this week to celebrate a twentieth anniversary observance of the forming of the midwest group of theatres. The "Anniversary Week" is the focal point of the nationwide Fall Film Festival, which this month and on through the autumn season is giving impetus to what has been aptly described as Hollywood's most impressive line-up of family motion picture entertainments in its history.

Current attraction at the local theatre is especially appropriate for the birthday celebration, in that it co-stars two of filmdom's most popular favorites, Bing Crosby and Barry Fitzgerald in their new tune-filled fun-filled movie, "Top O' the Morning."

As something decidedly different, the theatres will present a two-day roadshow engagement on Tuesday and Wednesday of the picturization of Eugene O'Neill's highly successful and controversial play, "Mourning Becomes Electra," starring Rosalind Russell with Kirk Douglas, Raymond Massey and a distinguished cast. One performance only will be held each evening at 8:15 p. m., and a 2 p. m. matinee is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon.

Football Picture

The first football picture of the season, "Father Was a Fullback," presents Fred MacMurray, Maureen O'Hara and Sedalia's favorite of Scudda-Hay-day, Betty Ann Lynn, in a novel and amusing twist to the accepted "grid-iron formula." Opening locally on October 16th, the showing will be sponsored by the Speech classes of Smith-Cotton high school for their annual benefit ticket sale. Other fall film festival attractions definitely scheduled include the new Clark Gable picture, "Any Number Can Play," the much-discussed "Home of the Brave," both scheduled for the week of October 23rd; the picturization of radio's prize show, "My Friend Irma," with the irrepressible Ma-

Miss Jo Ann Gentry Chosen Queen

Miss Gentry was elected Sedalia's Queen to the American Royal in Kansas City, next week. Miss Gentry (left), is the daughter of Charles Gentry, route 3, Sedalia, and her Alternate is Miss Yvonne Bohon, (right) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bohon, 509 West Sixth street. Mrs. White Improves

Mrs. A. J. White, formerly of Sedalia, now of Webster Groves, who has been a patient of the Deaconess hospital in St. Louis for sometime, has improved considerably and is planning to return to her home this week-end.

Of particular importance to Sedalians, since it is understood that one of the central characters will portray a Sedalia newspaperman, will be the "Big Parade" of World War II, "Battleground," scheduled for Thanksgiving release. While not definitely dated, the picture will be a part of the Fall Film Festival. "Battleground" is the chronicle of the "Screaming Eagles" of the 101st Airborne, and is the story of the Battle of the Bulge and the heroic resistance of a mere handful of men who, during seven hectic, gory days, up to and including Christmas, 1944, when completely surrounded and fantastically outnumbered, stood off the best that the desperate, last-ditch Nazi army could fling at them.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

First Inning Dodgers

Reese worked the count to 1-2, then was hit on the right leg by a low inside pitch. Berra caught Miksis' high pop foul in front of the Yankee dugout and threw to Coleman at second to double up Reese who had attempted to go to second after the catch. Furillo fled to DiMaggio.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Third Inning Yankees

Mapes walked on a full count, after Campanella failed to hold onto a foul tip which would have been a third strike. Coleman was called out on strikes. Byrne singled sharply past Robinson to center field and Mapes with the hit and run, went all the way to third. Rizzuto fled to Furillo. Mapes tagged up and scored after the catch as Furillo's throw came in far over to the third base side of home plate. Byrne held first. Henrich walked on four pitches. Berra was out on a soft liner to Robinson.

One run, one hit, no errors, two left.

Third Inning Dodgers

Snider fled to Woodling. Brown whipped out Campanella, who hit the first pitch. Branca struck out, but had to be thrown out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Fourth Inning Yankees

DiMaggio went down swinging for the second straight time. Brown fouled to Miksis. Woodling unloaded a double off the scoreboard in right-center field. Mapes rolled out, Robinson to Branca who covered first.

Fourth Inning Dodgers

Reese looked at a called strike and banded the next pitch deep into the lower left field stands, 365 feet away, for a home run to tie the score 1-1. Miksis sent a screaming liner to DiMaggio in left-center. Furillo rammed Tom Byrne's first pitch past Brown for a single. The Yankee bullpen began to stir. Robinson walked on four pitches. Hodges walked on five pitches to load the bases. That was all for Byrne and he was replaced by Page. Olmo fouled to Henrich who reached into the field boxes behind first to make a fine gloved-hand catch. Snider then whacked Page's first pitch on the ground to Coleman who flipped him out.

One run, two hits, no errors, three left.

Eighth Inning Dodgers

The official attendance was announced as 32,788. Branca was called out on strikes. Reese walked on five pitches. Miksis shot a single into the hole between third and short after missing an attempt to sacrifice. It was the first hit off Page in four innings. Reese stopped at second. Furillo fled to Mapes in shallow right-center and the outfielder's quick retrieve kept the runners glued to their bases. Robinson backed up DiMaggio for his line drive in dead center.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

Ninth Inning Yankees

Robinson raced to his left to make a brilliant gloved hand sab of Henrich's smash and threw him out. Berra walked. The fourth ball got away from Campanella and rolled to the screen but Berra was unable to go beyond first. Branca had retired 14 men in a row. DiMaggio went out on a high foul to Miksis. Brown singled sharply past Hodges, sending Berra to second. Woodling walked to fill the bases. The fourth ball to him was very low and hit the dirt, but Campanella made a fine stop to prevent an advance. Johnny Mize, former New York Giant slugger, went in to bat for Mapes. Mize slammed a 2-1 pitch against the screen in right field close to the line scoring Berra and Brown and sending Woodling to third. It was a long single for Mize. # Stress Need For Greater Understanding despite their years of hardships. For her they had good American coffee, Miss Butler said, which they had been saving for her coming. When she asked about their coffee they said that during the war they used ground dandelion roots and now roasted peas. They gave her the best of everything even to a car which was so old that the oil had to be changed three times in a three hour trip.

Reparations to Russia

The people of Finland give great credit to America and think we have done more than any other country could or would do, Miss Butler said. She told of the ship building program for Russia which was reparation to that country and they were given until 1952 to complete the program but they hoped to complete it by 1950 so they might build ships for themselves. She told of her visit to the Russian border with interpreter and guide, where there were stakes marking the dividing line and soldiers of each country guarding the border and she thought of the two borders on either side of the United States where there is no need for soldiers.

The land the Russian soldiers guarded was really part of Finland that was given to Russia as reparation with the United States being one to sanction the action. But the integrity of the people of Finland is so great that they will meet all of their debts no matter what they are, she said. Finland came out of the war better than any nation she saw, Miss Butler said, but although it has been a number of times, it cannot bring to the United Nations because of a treaty with Russia and someday they hope there will be a time when there can be no act by veto of one nation only.

Have Charity Market

A peach, Miss Butler found, cost $1.10 and she did not buy it but the Finnish people did. Things are rationed and everybody, even the president, receives the same number of ration cards. The prices are set by the Ministry of Supply and there is no blackmarket but a charity market and with this they are helping to rebuild Finland. Denmark she remembered for its strawberries, Miss Butler said, the first fruit she had had and they meant so much to her. Denmark she described as a beautiful level country which is farm and dairy land. It does not show devastation of the war. The people there are gay and always are having parties, she said, but they are very busy people.

Sweden was not in the war and was not rationed until now. They miss most their coffee, Miss Butler said. Every available piece of land in the Scandinavian countries is used but the methods of farming are backward, according to the speaker.

Norway was the most devastated country in all Scandinavia, where the Germans made it a point to destroy every large city at the same time, Miss Butler said. Switzerland, is famous for its beauty, the speaker said, but she thought Norway just as beautiful. They don't have enough food and clothes in Norway, she said, because they depend on imports and they are trying to rebuild the country.

Finland Grateful

People often say, Miss Butler said, when told Finland is grateful to the United States, "Well, they should be." But Miss Butler continued, we owe a great debt to them, too. If it were not for Finland, it would be nothing for Russia to go into Norway and Sweden and then to the United States.

America as the hope of the world is losing prestige, Miss Butler said, and it is necessary that the people know, I don't believe they understand. Concluding she offered a plan that she believed would do much to bring about peace. The bringing of people from those countries over here to learn our methods of using equipment after they get it, the sending of people over there to learn the needs of the people. As an illustration she told of the women receiving boxes of ready-made cake flour with the directions which read: "Use measuring cup," and they asked, "What is a measuring cup?" What good know to use it, if they don't know how to use it.

Every intelligent American adult should work to protect the principles that made America great. Miss Butler said, and to become the hope of the world. It is not too late, she said, to keep the torch of freedom held high and bring justice to the world.

Committee Members

The members of Miss Palmer's committee were: Mrs. Florence Elliott, Miss Lois Fricke, Mrs. Rose Hausman, Mrs. Virginia Flower Hayes, Mrs. Mabel Menefee, Miss Marguerite O'Connell, Mrs. J. F. Schumacher, Mrs. Orville Shaw, Mrs. A. W. Spurlock, Mrs. Blanche Tyler and Mrs. A. L. Wilson.

Music was furnished throughout the evening by the Rambling Troubadors, Mrs. Nellie Monegan, at the piano and Mrs. Archie Wilson and Mrs. Donald Donath. Violin and by the B. P. W. C. sextette composed of Mrs. Archie Wilson, Miss Irene Ritchey, Miss Wanda Stephenson, Miss Doris Stott, Mrs. Donald Donath and Mrs. David Mahnen, with Mrs. Jonegan as the accompanist.

As a special tribute to Miss Butler the sextette sang a song with the words written especially for the International President. Serving on the reception com-life and was on the verge of suicide when the Salvation Army came to her rescue. They gave her consultation and almost daily attention spending a great deal of time developing her into a normal girl.

Another case was that of a child who was in unpleasant home environment. She became suspicious, hard to handle and would not play with other children. Through the Young Peoples Division of the Salvation Army where cooking and sewing are taught as well as the making of other things, through the Bible class and recreation classes she gained confidence step by step and has developed into a lovely child and a good leader.

When there are places needed to keep children for various reasons the Salvation Army is always ready. The delinquent children are always kept there until time for their trials because they are not to be put in regular jails.

The Salvation Army is one place that is always open to men, women or children to give them help, whatever that help may be.

No Emotion as 'Tokyo Rose' Gets Sentence

Ten Years In Prison And $10,000 Fine Will Be Appealed

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7—(P)—Iva Toguri D'Aquino was sentenced to 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine in federal court Thursday for making treasonable "Tokyo Rose" broadcasts from radio Tokyo in wartime.

Mrs. D'Aquino, 33, daughter of a Los Angeles and Chicago grocer, stood with eyes downcast. She showed no emotion as the sentence was pronounced by Judge Michael J. Roche.

Roche acted following denial of motions by her attorneys for a directed verdict of acquittal, arrest of judgment and a new trial, and a plea for clemency.

Says Conscience Is Clear

"I couldn't believe they would send me to jail," the young woman told newsmen shortly before the sentence. "My conscience is clear."

"I did everything I could for the Americans. I spent more than half my salary taking food and tobacco to the prisoners of war at Bunka camp."

Chief Prosecutor Tom De Wolfe resisted all defense motions and spoke in reply to the plea for clemency.

Mrs. D'Aquino was convicted of one overt act charging she had broadcast to American troops after the battle of Leyte.

"You really are orphans now that you have lost all your ships. How are you going to get home?"

Said She Was "A Mere Girl"

Defense Attorney Wayne Collins, who pleaded for the minimum sentence of five years, described his client as "a mere girl" in 1943 when she "yielded to pressure to go on the radio, while stranded in a hostile country."

"It was the same pressure to which 27 prisoners of war—men and soldiers—also yielded," he added.

He called the verdict a "gross miscarriage of justice" and said he would appeal.

After the accident Alvin's father drove him to Bothwell hospital where he was examined by Dr. E. C. Snively. It has been reported that no broken bones were found and his injuries consisted of bruises on the back of his head and both wrists, lacerations on his side, neck and the side of his face.

Girls in Fog Took Refuge in a Cabin

MONTREAT, N. C., Oct. 7—(P)—Six frightened girls missing all night in a sweeping fog on lonely Greybeard mountain were found unharmed Thursday.

Sheriff's officers located them in a cabin where they spent the night after going on a hike.

The girls are students at Montreat college, a Presbyterian school here. They left Wednesday on a hiking trip and were reported missing early Wednesday night.

When they did not return Sheriff's officers joined in the search, but efforts to locate them through the night were unsuccessful.

Dr. Rupert McGregor, the college's president, declined to give their names.

Bridge Pier Shears Sleeping Car

Six passengers aboard this sleeping car were injured when the car was derailed at St. Paul, Minn., and nearly sheared in two by a bridge pier. Eight persons were aboard the car, part of the Great Northern railway's Empire Builder, which had just left the St. Paul Union Station bound for Seattle, Wash. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Charles Bryant, the 18-year-old school boy driver.

Carvin Strickland, 17, scrambled to his feet. He climbed over Bryant's form and switched off the motor, stopping the vehicle 152 feet beyond the bridge. Children screamed and sobbed; others lay unconscious. Books and lunch boxes were strewn about.

Strickland directed removal of injured. He helped pull some out, then directed quickly-gathering neighbors to rescue assignments.

PSC Recesses Bell Hearing

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 7—(P)—The Missouri Public Service Commission recessed until next week last night its public hearing on Southwestern Belle Telephone Co., request for a $5,000,000 second round rate increase.

Frequently continued for days or weeks, the hearing was opened last July. Today was the 13 days consumed by the hearing.

For more than a day, Public Service Commission Staff members and attorneys for Missouri cities opposing the rate hike questioned Bell's chief engineer, H. R. Fritz of St. Louis. He had testified earlier on Bell's system of accounting for depreciation of plant.

Just before quitting today, the utility's rate engineer, L. D. Leverington, went over his estimates on how much the proposed rate boost would cost customers in the various Missouri cities served by Bell.

Democrat Committee Asks Olds Support

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 7—(P)—The Democratic state committee asked mayors and REA co-op officials Thursday to demand confirmation of Leland Olds as federal power commissioner.

Jack Hackethorn, secretary of the committee, sent the appeal to 44 Rural Electrification Cooperatives and 82 mayors by telegram and letter.

He told them to let their United States senators know they want Olds confirmed. His confirmation has been stymied in the Senate.

"The monopoly seeking power lobby wants Olds kept off the commission x x x," he said. Defeat of his nomination would be "a victory for the power lobby."

The girls are students at Montreat college, a Presbyterian school here. They left Wednesday on a hiking trip and were reported missing early Wednesday night.

When they did not return Sheriff's officers joined in the search, but efforts to locate them through the night were unsuccessful.

Dr. Rupert McGregor, the college's president, declined to give their names.

Signs up on Foreign Aid

$1,314,010,000 to Arms; Five Billion Goes to ECA

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—(P)—Pres. Truman on Thursday signed the $1,314,010,000 arms aid bill, calling it "a notable contribution to the collective security of the free nations of the world."

Most to Marshall Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—(P)—Pres. Truman Thursday signed a bill providing $5,809,990,000 to carry on the Foreign Aid program until next June 30.

Most of the money—$3,778,380,000—goes for the Marshall Plan. The remainder includes funds for aid to Greece, and Turkey and for costs of occupying Germany, Austria, Japan and the Ryukyus.

The measure also sets up funds—previously authorized but never legally provided—for operating the Economic Cooperation Administration for the final three months of the fiscal year 1949.

The legislation was passed by Congress Sept. 29 after almost nine months of hearings, debate, and attempts to cut the ECA allotment.

It carries about 10 per cent less money than ECA administrator Paul G. Hoffman had asked for the year.

Approve Bill on Flood Control

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—(P)—The Senate Public Works committee approved Thursday $1,564,228,650 worth of flood control and navigation projects.

It added $447,228,650 in New York authorizations to the House-passed version of the omnibus rivers and harbors and flood control bill.

The authorization bill provides no money. It makes projects eligible for future appropriations. Money for plans and construction work must be provided in subsequent appropriation bills before any work can be undertaken.

The House-passed bill would authorize new Army Engineer work totaling $1,117,000,000, of which $995,000,000 is for flood control and $120,000,000 is for navigation on rivers and harbors. In addition $200,000,000 was provided for further work by the Reclamation Bureau in the Missouri river basin.

Feeling Pinch of The Steel Strike

DETROIT, Oct. 7—(P)—The Detroit industrial giant began feeling the pinch Thursday of the nationwide steel strike.

The Packard Motor Co. laid off 7,856 of its 12,413 employees until Monday. The Briggs Manufacturing Co., which supplies bodies for Packard, laid off 5,000 employees at its Conner plant for the rest of the week.

Both companies said operations would resume Monday, but on a reduced schedule. Packard said its shutdown is to balance shortages already caused by the steel strike.

The automotive shutdown was brought to about 25,000 the number of workers idle in the Detroit area as a result of the steel strike.

The strike idled 10,300 steel workers at Great Lakes Steel and 2,000 others in five small steel plants here.

Among some auto manufacturers there was uncertainty as to how long present production schedules can be maintained if the steel tie-up continues. They said continued production depends on a uniform flow of parts from suppliers. Some suppliers were reported short on steel.

Would Call For An Accounting

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—(P)—Folks who sell sandwiches in government buildings will have to show their books to Uncle Sam under a bill asked by Rep. Karsten, Missouri Democrat.

He submitted a measure Thursday providing for the financial control and operation of all federal income producing activities such as restaurants and snack bars.

He said his bill was designed to provide an adequate accounting system and that it would prevent any diverting of funds to unauthorized purposes.

Judge Oldham Is Assaulted By Deaf Mute

Ordered Children Taken From Him; Wife, Also Deaf Mute

JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 7—(P)—A circuit judge alleged Thursday he was assaulted by a 45-year-old deaf mute whose six small children had been taken from his custody by court order.

Jasper County Prosecuting Attorney Dale Tourtelot said Woodrow Hymer, six-foot, 200 pound deaf mute, has been charged with common-assault.

Offers $200 For Children

Judge Woodson Oldham, who also serves as juvenile court judge, reported to police that Hymer and his wife, also a deaf mute, approached him in a Joplin bowling alley last night, and Hymer handed the judge a note reading:

"I'll give you $200 to give me my children back."

The judge said he replied that Hymer had the right of appeal from the court's decision if he wished to make an effort to obtain the return of his children. The judge said he added in his note to Hymer:

"I don't take any bribes."

Then, according to the judge, Hymer wrote another note saying, "I don't mean bribe. Give me my note back."

Makes Grab For Judge

Judge Oldham reported he shook his head to indicate a negative answer then placed the note in his shirt pocket. At this point, the judge continued, Hymer grabbed for the note and a scuffle followed. Other men in the bowling alley interfered.

The judge said he then called police and Hymer was arrested. The Hymers have been in juvenile court over a period of months, the judge stated, in connection with the treatment of their children, ranging in age from eight months to eight years.

He said the children were neglected and undernourished. The children were taken from the Hymer and placed in the care of the juvenile court.

Engineer Killed In Freight Train Wreck

MEMPHIS, Oct. 7—(P)—Two Frisco freight trains crashed headon just across the Mississippi river bridge here last night. Early reports said the engineer of one was killed.

Junction headquarters at Hoxie, Ark., said a northbound freight piled into a southbound train which had stopped. The engineer, pinned in his cab, was dead when Memphis ambulances arrived on the scene.

A funeral home in Memphis tentatively identified the dead trainman as E. E. Talley of Chaffee, Mo.

Three other members of the crew were injured, but were not believed critically hurt.

Six Injured As Elevator Falls

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7—(P)—At least six persons were injured on Thursday when a passenger elevator plunged out of control about two floors in the fashionable Harzfeld department store here.

First reports indicated there were no fatalities.

The fall occurred during a heavy shopping period this afternoon. Police said the injured persons suffered fractured legs and sprained ankles.

There were 18 persons in the elevator when it went out of control. They included 14 women, a man and three children.

The elevator dropped from the fifth floor and came to a stop against an emergency safety break between the second and third floors.

The passengers were removed from the elevator through a large air vent located in the elevator shaft between the second and third floors.

Russell Faubion, building superintendent, said a large plate which holds the elevator cables gave way, leaving the car free. The plate is located at the top of the building, on the tenth floor.

All the injured persons were taken to hospitals. Six ambulances were summoned when the accident was reported.

Resignation Of Queille is Accepted

Soviet Delegation To UN Hints New Peace Proposal

By the Associated Press
President Vincent Auriol of France Thursday accepted the resignation of Premier Henri Queille. Partisans of right and left immediately set up a clamor to enter the government.

Queille has led the most stable and enduring French government since the war. Devaluation of the franc brought on the crisis.

The premier was forced to resign because of a split between left and right in his coalition cabinet. He had held 't together for one year and 25 days, but devaluation of the franc and fear of inflation brought increased demands from the Socialists for wage boosts. Queille quit because he strongly opposes general increases believing they will only speed up the inflationary cycle. He is a radical Socialist which in the French political book means conservative. In sticking to his wage freeze policy he was supported by the other conservatives who made up his coalition cabinet. Now President Auriol has the difficult job of finding a new premier.

The Soviet delegation at the United Nations is hinting it has a new peace proposal up its sleeve. Delegate Jakob A. Malik started other delegates guessing when he announced he would propose a new plan on armament control before the security council next Tuesday.

Jovial After Resignation

Reporters asked Malik if his new plan embraced a census of atomic weapons as well as conventional armaments. Malik replied: "You know our policy has been consistent."

The Soviet Union in the past has opposed any world count of weapons which would not include atomic weapons. Now, since the Soviets have engineered an atomic explosion and claim they mastered the atomic secret two years ago, will their arms control policy be changed? Perhaps next Tuesday the world will know.

Test of Sovereignty
Russia, on paper, is going to give the embryo East German government a taste of sovereignty. The government which is to be proclaimed tomorrow is being set up to rival the West German republic sponsored by the United States, Britain and France. The Communists claim the western government is a puppet controlled by the western allies occupation statute.

At Canton, the Chinese Nationalists claimed their armies are doing better in the field. They announced a sizeable victory over the Communists in human province, and said it would stabilize the situation in Central China. There were reports that the Nationalists' armies have warded off a Communist attack on Kukong, 125 miles north of Canton.

In Washington, President Truman set in operation a $1,314,010,000 arms program to aid friendly nations around the world. The initial outlay of the money voted by congress will prepare for shipment abroad some $450,000,000 in surplus U. S. military equipment, possibly by the middle of next month.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 8, IS NEWSPAPERBOY DAY

Every day, morning and evening, throughout the nation, newspaperboys are delivering the news of the world to the homes of millions of Americans. They distribute a precious commodity — the flow of information gleaned by a free and unfettered press — a commodity indispensable to the maintenance of a strong and democratic America. The newspaperboys are today playing a significant role in the fight to keep this nation free.

And these young men, by faithfully executing their tasks, are achieving traits of character, thrift, initiative and resourcefulness, which lead to good and healthy citizenship. They learn, for example, that their papers must be distributed on time, with care, and, by all means the subscriber must not be skipped. Moreover, the youngster acquires sound and well-rounded business experience by collecting his bills and keeping straight his accounts. He can achieve the personal satisfaction of a job well done through the application of constructive effort and initiative.

These newspaperboys, who travel the streets each day are not the delinquent boys of America — no, they are the leaders of tomorrow, working to improve themselves, their families, and, in turn, their nation.

The newspaperboys of America are deserving of the honor and tribute paid them this day — National Newspaperboy Day. They have learned to serve their fellow citizens, and to serve them well. The work of the newspaperboys in reaching 13 million persons with a United States Savings Bonds message during the Opportunity Bond Drive in 1949 is symbolic of their qualities of thrift, service and self-sacrifice. Their demonstration of leadership and faith in the future of America should serve as an example for all of us.

Good luck and hearty wishes to these hearty lads, who are performing so many tasks in such meritorious ways.

John Edgar Hoover
Director

"... Their demonstration of leadership and faith in the future of America should serve as an example for all of us ..."

The Treasury Department is proud to join Mr. Hoover in paying tribute to the half-million newspaperboys who have done so much in the service of their communities and their country. They made an historic contribution during the war by selling almost two-billion 10c War Savings Stamps to their customers and have continued to set an example in thrift for the nation by their own regular investments in U. S. Savings Stamps and Bonds. They are working and BUYING U. S. Savings Bonds today to build their better future . . .

Highlights of Yesterday's Series Game

Preacher Roe Put The Dodgers Back Into The Ball Game

BROOKLYN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Once again Preacher Roe's crafty left arm has turned night into day for Brooklyn.

Now it's up to Rex Barney. Ralph Branca, Don Newcombe and the strong, young arms of Burt Shotton's staff to subdue the New York Yankees. Roe did his bit by squaring the world series with his 1-0 victory over Vic Raschi in yesterday's second game.

If it goes six or seven, as seems likely now, the "Preach" from the little hill town of Hardy, Ark., may be in there again. But not before Monday or Tuesday.

Pitching like a man with a mission, blood dripping from an injured finger, Roe has put the Dodgers back in the old ball game.

Even the odd makers saw the light in Roe's homespun masterpiece. Instead of the easy-does-it 1 to 3 favorites yesterday, the Yankees now are only 3 to 4.

Scene Moves To Ebbets Field

If Barney or Branca, whoever gets the nod from Shotton, can beat Lefty Tommy Byrne today as the scene moves to Ebbets Field for three games, the Brooks will be the choice.

Brooklyn fans figure Newcombe, beaten despite 11 strikeouts in the 1-0 opener by Allie Reynolds, won't lose another one like that. The Yanks have a new and abiding respect for Mr. Roe.

There won't be half as many people present in Flatbush as the 70,053 who decorated Yankee Stadium yesterday, but you can bet they will make more noise. The crowds at the two pitcher's battles in the Bronx were staid and almost stuffy.

No matter what happens today, baseball people will be talking over the Roe-Raschi and Reynolds-Newcombe duels for months to come in the Hot Stove league.

Mixing well his sweeping curve, change of pace and "fast ball," Roe handed the Yanks their first shutout of the season at Yankee Stadium.

Robinson Scores

Jackie Robinson provided the run Roe needed yesterday in the second inning. Bobby doubled, took third on a foul pop and scored on Gil Hodges' single. That was it.

Roe didn't produce the clean cut, overpowering job that Newcombe turned in. But he won.

He was 3-2 on four batters and 3-1 on three others but he got all seven. No walks told an important story although it didn't help Newcombe Wednesday.

Only once did the Yanks have more than one man on base at the same time. They never did get two hits in the same inning.

It was the eighth when the pressure really was on Roe. Casey Stengel, searching his bench for a pinch hitter, sent big Jawn Mize up to hit for Charley Silvera. Mize celebrated his first world series chance in 17 years of waiting with a single.

Bobby Brown, the 1,000 pinch hitting ace of the '47 classic, was called out on strikes but Roe fumbled Phil Rizzuto's sacrifice bunt for an error. There were men on first and second with Tommy Henrich, the home run hero of the opener, at the plate.

Weighted Pitches Carefully

Weighing every pitch carefully, Roe took Henrich to 3-2, and then retired "Old Reliable" on a hoist to Luis Olmo. Hank Bauer, another long ball hitter, drew three straight balls and then a strike before he forced Rizzuto on a bouncer to Spider Jorgensen. The heat was off.

Joe DiMaggio, who had gone 0 for 6 in the series, beat out a slow roller for a single starting the ninth and Roe again was threatened. But he struck out Johnny Lindell, made Bill Johnson pop out and ended the game with Jerry Coleman's outfield fly.

All this time, from the fourth inning on, Roe was working despite a painful injured finger. A smash to the box by Lindell tore half the nail off the fourth finger of his right hand. Doc Wendler, the club trainer, drilled a hole in the nail to let out a pocket of blood after Roe batted in the fifth.

Max Baer Is Making Plans For Comeback

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Max Baer, who once briefly held the world heavyweight boxing championship, took a look at NBA king Ezzard Charles and announced:

Max Baer will attempt a comeback.

Max said he already had started serious workouts at his Sacramento, Calif., home a week ago. And he expects to be in condition for the ring in six weeks.

He won the heavyweight title by knocking out Primo Carnera June 14, 1934. He lost it on a decision to Jim Braddock June 13, 1935.

Denies Jackie Robinson Has Been Sold to Braves

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Both Brooklyn and Boston baseball officials stoutly denied today a report that Jackie Robinson, the Dodgers' stellar second baseman, had been sold to the Braves for a wad of cash and talent.

The Washington Times Herald, in a dispatch from New York, reported it had learned Robinson would go to the Braves for $250,000 and two unnamed players.

The official announcement of the deal is being held up until after the World Series, the paper added.

A Brooklyn spokesman who declined use of his name termed the report "Poppycock."

Billy Southworth, manager of the Braves who was given a late season leave of absence, said he was positive there was no foundation to the report.

Facts In Prize Fighters Death To Grand Jury

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 6.—(AP)—

The facts in the prize fight death of Enrico Bertola will go to the grand jury, District Attorney Gordon Steele said today.

Bertola, the heavyweight champion of Italy, died yesterday of an inter-cranial hemorrhage, apparently suffered in dropping a 10-round decision to Lee Oma Tuesday night.

Col. Matt J. Winn, Who Saw 75 Kentucky Derbys, is Dead

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 7.—(AP)—

Mr. "Kentucky Derby" — 88-year old Col. Matt J. Winn — died here early Thursday.

The president of Churchill Downs and the director of the annual mile and a quarter turf classic for three year old thoroughbreds crossed life's finish line at 2:45 a. m. CST, at St Joseph Infirmary.

He had been seriously ill for several weeks following two operations to correct a stomach disorder. Three of his four living daughters, other relatives and several business associates were at his bedside when he died.

Col. Winn was one of the few persons who had seen all 75 of the Kentucky Derbys. He saw the first one as a boy of 13 and last May he achieved his life's ambition when he attended the Diamond Jubilee of the Derby.

Synonymous

To the racing public Col. Winn and the Kentucky Derby were almost synonymous.

Through his efforts the Derby's continuous history was kept alive through two world wars and the intervening peace years. It was one of his proud accomplishments that the Churchill Downs turf classic never missed a year during the second World War, even though travel restrictions limited some of them to "street car Derbys."

Despite his advanced years and declining health, Colonel Winn maintained an active interest in horse racing. He proudly announced in 1940 that the added value of the Derby had been raised from $50,000 to $75,000.

Increase in Derby

As soon as the war was over, Winn announced another increase in the Derby purse — this time to $100,000. Incidentally, he said he had realized a long-time dream in 1946 when the estimated attendance at the Derby totaled 100,000.

In addition to Churchill Downs, Colonel Winn also was interested at various times in race tracks at Chicago, New York, Covington, Ky., and in Mexico.

Winn took over Louisville's historic race track, Churchill Downs, in 1902. Winn and associates organized the American Turf association in opposition to the old Western Turf association in 1904. The association and Winn controlled and owned several race tracks during his long career.

In recent years, Winn spent most of his time in Louisville, where he was born on June 30, 1861. He was married in 1888 to Mary Rosa Doyle of Louisville. They were the parents of seven daughters and one son.

Both teams have won three games and lost none this season.

It will be the first time since the Vikings' winning streak gained recognition that Missouri Valley will be the underdog.

Missouri Will Attempt to Better Rating

Against the Aggies In Grid Game Played At Home Saturday

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Oklahoma and Missouri will attempt to better their ratings in the national football picture tomorrow while four other Big Seven teams will seek to clarify their conference status.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's Oklahoma Sooners will meet Texas' Longhorns in a battle of power-houses at Dallas, Tex.

Missouri, coached by split-T founder Don Faurot, has a major assignment in Oklahoma A. and M. at Columbia, Mo.

In conference affairs, Nebraska and Kansas State will play at Manhattan, Kas., and Iowa State and Colorado at Boulder, Colo.

The Kansas Jayhawks, whipped in their first three starts, figure to get on the winning side in an intersectional tilt with George Washington at Lawrence, Kas., but not without a battle.

Two Undeclared Teams

Oklahoma, and outstanding favorite to repeat for the Big Seven championship and one of the nation's toughest outfits, figures to have all it can handle in Texas. The Sooners beat Texas 20-14 last year. Both are undefeated this fall.

Missouri lost its first two games by a single point, 35-34 to Ohio State and 28-27 to Southern Methodist. Faurot says he will by-pass the platoon system in favor of one strong unit tomorrow.

Iowa State, number 1 surprise in the league to date by virtue of its 20-20 tie with Illinois and a win over Kansas, will be in top shape for Colorado, which has had its share of manpower misfortunes.

An Offensive Bout

Both Nebraska and Kansas State are hopeful of high ratings in the final conference standings. Nebraska's quarterback Fran Nagel, a transfer student, and sophomore Hiram Faubion of Kansas State are expected to tangle in a first class offensive bout.

Kansas State broke its five-year losing streak in topping Colorado 27-13 last week and the Wildcats' stadium probably won't accommodate all the willing customers tomorrow. The maximum seating capacity is about 18,000.

Cape Indians To Meet Mules Tonite

The Cape Girardeau football team practiced on the Smith Cotton field Thursday afternoon after the Smith Cotton team completed practice. The Southeast Missouri State College of Cape Girardeau at a short drill of an hour on the Smith Cotton field was en route to Warrensburg where they play the Mules tonight on the college gridiron.

Frank Potts, a former Sedalia student, is a half back on the Cape Girardeau team. He played his sophomore and junior years on the Smith Cotton team before moving to Cape Girardeau. Members of the Indians team were guests at the Quarterback club meeting, where pictures of the Missouri and Ohio State and Missouri-S.M.U. games were shown.

The Indians stopped at the Bothwell hotel Thursday night before going on to Warrensburg today.

Some excitement was created during this mock game when Sedalia star, Gene Dowdy, made a sensational punt, good for sixty-five yards, which hit Coach Ralph "Stub" Dow on the head knocking him out momentarily.

Bealmear Grid Predictions Average For 1949 Now .802

By Austin Bealmear

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(AP)—For those whose interest can be diverted from the world series long enough for a fling at football, here is the third installment of piskin predictions with a warning that some strange developments last week dropped our average to .802 on 89 correct guesses and 22 misses:

Slim Vote For Michigan

Army vs. Michigan—something will have to give here. That great Michigan winning streak must come to an end sometime, and Army might be the team to end it. Still, how can you pick against an outfit that is rated the best in the land and is just aching to avenge those 1945 and 1946 defeats? One slim vote for Michigan.

Oklahoma vs. Texas—another top-drawer attraction between two of the most highly-gear'd offenses. Between them, these two already have scored 232 points—more than many teams will score all season. If Oklahoma has tightened up its pass defense, the Sooners should outscore the speedy Texans. A sentimental nod to Oklahoma.

Ohio State vs. Southern California—Pacific coast football has been slow in recovering from the war but it looks as if it finally has returned to prewar status. Having whipped Navy and Washington State, the Trojans look like the best in the west. One shaky vote for Southern Cal.

Georgia vs. Kentucky—the Wildcats have been one of the big surprises of the season, at least two this corner. Georgia, barely beaten by North Carolina, should show us just how good the lads from the Bluegrass country really are. A quick vote for Kentucky.

Notre Dame vs. Purdue—the Irish, looking ahead to next week's date with tough Tulane, can't relax too much, although the Boilermakers have lost both previous starts. One carefree vote for Notre Dame.

Duke Pushed Over Navy

Duke vs. Navy—Duke is another team that has surpassed pre-season predictions and should handle Navy, although the Midlides finally know how it feels to win and are itching for more of the same.

UCLA vs. Stanford—strictly a toss-up here. Stanford's one-sided defeat of Harvard lost significance when Harvard bowed to Sophomore Columbia and Michigan scalped the Indians. The choice is UCLA.

Mississippi vs. Vanderbilt—this looks like "breather" week in the south, with most of the underdogs meeting outclassed opposition. But that's when you can look for upsets. Vanderbilt.

Yale vs. Columbia—Lou Little has done it again. He's turned a green Columbia team into a unit of fighting opportunists. But they don't look good enough here. Yale.

California vs. Wisconsin—perhaps one of the day's best intergame.

Eddie Dyer Is Proud Of His Cards

Resents Remarks Birds "Choked" In Pennant Drive

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Manager Eddie Dyer resents remarks his St. Louis Cardinals "choked" in the National league pennant drive.

"Anyone who says guys like Marty Marion, Red Schoendienst, Enos Slaughter, Stan Musial and Harry Brecheen would choke don't know baseball," he said with emphasis.

Home On "Vacation"

Eddie arrived here late last night to start a "vacation" of directing his Houston insurance, oil and banking interests.

Eddie has a right to be tired. For weeks he jockeyed his ball club into the nose-and-nose stretch drive with the Dodgers. He wasn't too tired, however, to let out a snort at hearing the word "choked."

His Cardinals, he said, played game after game despite injuries and ailments that would have shelved most men.

Describes Last Two Weeks

He put it this way: "Schoendienst dropped more balls in the last two weeks of the season than he had in a couple of complete seasons before—muffed easy chances. His reflexes were not working. Two days before the season ended, he broke a thumb on taking an easy throw from the outfield.

"In our final series with Brooklyn, we had two center fielders on the injury list, two infielders, but we went on battling every inch of the way. I'm proud of them."

Hubbard To Play K. C. Lincoln Here

The Hubbard high school Tigers will be after their second victory of the gridiron season, when they face the Lincoln high school gridders of Kansas City, under the lights of Liberty Park, tonight at 8:00 o'clock.

This is the second meeting of the two teams in a current two year series. Last year, the two teams battled to a 6 to 6 tie in Kansas City. Each team has won one game this season. Hubbard defeated Western Seminary in their opener 14 to 0. The Lincoln Yellowjackets won their opener 26 to 0.

The Tigers have been hard-at-work brushing up defensively to stop the strong running attack of the Yellowjackets. There has been a few minor changes in the Hubbard line-up.

The public of Sedalia is invited to attend tonight's game.

The starting line-up for Hubbard Tigers: Briscoe, le, Powell, lt, McMiller, lg, Piper, c, Whitney, rg, Edwards, rt, Fitzpatrick, re, Mason, qb, Johnson, rh, Payne, lh, and Henderson fb.

The Tigers have the following games left to play this season. Hubbard at Columbia, October 14; Hubbard at Western Baptist, Kansas City, October 20; Hubbard at Lexington, October 28, Lexington here, November, 4 and Columbia here, November 11.

game made the Yankees slight favorites. New York, with Lopat facing Branca, was listed at 4 to 5, and the odds on Brooklyn were even in the event these pitchers start. With Lopat facing Barney, the Yankees were listed at 7 to 10 and the Dodgers at 6 to 5.

Debris After Hurricane

Only a pile of rubble remains after a hurricane struck this fish house belonging to Al Gollott at Freeport, Tex. An exact estimate of the damage done by the storm was impossible until further checks could be made. But it appeared the heaviest damage was to rice and cotton, and that the coast's vast industrial areas withstood the big wind. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Truman Isn't Excited Over Reds UN Plan

Doubts Russia Is Cooking Up Atomic Bomb Control Plan

By D. Harold Oliver
WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—(P)—President Truman said Thursday he doubts that Russia is cooking up an acceptable atomic bomb control plan.

The Soviets will make a new arms control statement next Tuesday at the United Nations. The big question is: will they have a new slant on atomic bomb control now that an atomic explosion in Russia has been reported by the U. S.?

Mr. Truman wasn't excited by this prospect. A newsman told him at his news conference that it was reported the Russians were about to make "some new proposal for disarmament." He asked if Mr. Truman would look forward to hearing about it.

Not necessarily, Mr. Truman replied. He said any number of proposals had been made that could not be accepted and this will probably be in the same class.

Hopes To Avoid Arms Race
The President did state his hope that the world can avoid an arms race and that the United Nations will still come up with an effective control of the atomic bomb.

Asked if an atomic agreement with Russia is not more necessary now than ever, he said the United States had made the most important proposition in the world for control of the bomb and Russia didn't see fit to accept it.

Basically the difference with Russia over atomic control is that the Soviets want to retain a veto over inspection within their borders.

Before the news conference, the President put his signature to bills authorizing or appropriating $7,154,000,000 in foreign economic and arms aid to stiffen the barriers against the spread of Communism and to discourage any Russian ideas of over-running Europe.

Mr. Truman disclosed to reporters that it was he who ordered the Democratic national committee to bring pressure on Democratic senators opposing his nomination of Leland Olds for a third term on the federal power commission.

He said this is a customary and proper thing to do. You have to have party discipline, he added, if the business of the government is to be transacted.

Hiss 200th News Conference
1—He instructed Secretary of the Navy Matthews yesterday to handle the furors resulting from the release of private Navy correspondence critical of defense unification policies.

2—The point has not yet been reached for presidential intervention in the coal and steel strikes.

The President's remarks about party discipline are expected to play an important part in the debate when the Senate takes up the Olds nomination. A Senate committee yesterday voted 10-2 against Olds, despite a letter from Mr. Truman urging approval and saying "powerful corporations" subject to regulation by the commission are out to get Olds.

A reporter wanted to know if Democratic Chairman William Boyle had not made a "new departure in politics by putting the heat on senators" in letters sent to national committeemen and state chairmen and vice chairmen. The letters asked these party leaders to let their senators know that "the people want Olds confirmed."

The President replied promptly that it was not new. He said it was customary and that he had asked Boyle to do it.

The President said his ultimate goal is for integration and equality of treatment for Negroes in the armed services. He described the recent announcement by the Army that it will give

Anti-Trust Investigation Of The AMA

CHICAGO, Oct. 7—(P)—The department of justice has started an anti-trust investigation of the American Medical Association and 15 affiliated medical organizations.

The AMA board of trustees calls it an effort to "discredit American medicine and terrorize physicians into abandoning their opposition to compulsory health insurance."

The department of justice, on the other hand, says it is looking into complaints of an effort to "monopolize" prepaid medical plans.

Attorney General J. Howard McGrath got out a statement after the AMA board had disclosed the inquiry and complained that its offices had been broken into in a search for records.

AMA Says Offices Entered
The board also said their private offices were broken into and "thoroughly searched" Feb. 10 while medical officials were charting their campaign in opposition to compulsory medical insurance.

The trustees said the office was broken into in the early hours of the morning during the board's February session. Their statement said records were thoroughly searched, and brief cases of the trustees, left in the room, also were searched.

The trustees listed this chronology of events:

1. In November, 1948, the AMA voted to collect funds from doctors to finance a campaign against compulsory health insurance.

2. One month later, department of justice agents called on qualified Negroes the opportunity to learn skills previously unavailable to them as only a progress report. He expects further recommendations to come from his committee studying the subject.

His recent order for economy in the defense department did not mean, he said, that economy won't be practiced in other departments. He said one of these days he's going to make public some figures on his expenditures have been cut since the war that would startle the public.

The Chicago Medical Society seeking information in connection with "an alleged anti-trust investigation."

3. The trustees office was rifled Feb. 10.

4. Near the end of that month "administration leaders began threatening medical societies and medical men with investigation as part of their campaign to discredit and intimidate the medical profession."

Says Political Implications

The statement added: "We would be naive, indeed, if we ignored the political implications of this sudden rash of investigations of medical societies at a time when the administration is doing its utmost to stifle opposition to its proposed system of government-controlled medical care."

"We recognize that politically-motivated attacks have been made on many groups by this division of the government—and we invite their cooperation with American medicine in an effort to alert the American people to the seriousness of this trend toward police state methods."

The department of justice in Washington declined any comment.

Societies which the trustees said investigations have been started in the last 30 days include:

Arkansas Medical Society; Oklahoma State Medical Association; Arkansas Blue Cross-Blue Shield; Beckham County, Okla., Medical Society; and the Harris County, Tex., Medical Society.

Crack Party Whip In Effort To Save Olds

Truman Tells Boyle National Chairman To Stir Up Support

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—(P)—President Truman cracked the party whip Thursday in an effort to save his nomination of Leland Olds to the federal power commission from being rejected by the Senate.

Mr. Truman told a news conference he has asked National Democratic Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., to stir up support for Olds among state Democratic leaders before a confirmation showdown next week.

The President asserted this move was a proper thing to do in behalf of his appointee who was rejected by the Senate commerce committee on a 10 to 2 vote yesterday despite Mr. Truman's personal intercession.

Must Have Party Discipline
Mr. Truman said he has to have party discipline if he is to transact the business of the government and carry out the party platform.

Boyle already has started the cross-country pep rally. Last night he dispatched telegrams to members of the party's National committee and to state chairmen, asking each to "make it his personal responsibility to see that Senators from his state are aware that the people want Olds confirmed."

The telegram went on to say that defeat of Olds' nominations would be a defeat for "the millions of Americans who are entitled to fair power rates and a victory for the power lobbyists and the Republican party."

Mr. Truman previously had said that "powerful corporations" were behind the opposition to Olds serving a fourth term on the power commission.

Hundred Million To Plan Public Works

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—(P)—Congress approved a $100,000,000 fund on Thursday to encourage states, counties and cities to plan public works.

The Senate passed a House bill and sent the measure to the White House.

The bill would permit the federal government to aid states and other non-federal agencies in financing the cost of surveys, engineering, and drafting plans for less driving charge Thursday and was fined $10.

House-Senate Disagree On Air Force

Meeting Breaks Up Over Groups; House Wants 58, Senate 48

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—(P)—A Senate and House conference broke up in disagreement last night over how big a combat air force the U. S. needs for her defense in peace time.

House members stood pat on a 58-group force while Senate conferees insisted on a 48 group air force. And on this issue the conference came to a dead halt.

Multi-Billion Dollar Bill
The deadlock came as the conferees were putting finishing touches on the multi-billion dollar bill to finance operations of the Army, Navy and Air Force until next June 30.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) chairman of the conference committee, told reporters the conferees reached tentative agreement on all items in the bill except the Air Force funds and a $275,000,000 item for stockpiling critical and strategic materials.

Asks For $15,324,506,700
